DURBIN AND BURKHARDT IN WRANGLE

Civil Service Commissioner Continues Probe on Question List

MAYOR DEMANDS STATEMENT

Attorney May Ask Chief Executive to Take Hand

Investigation of the origin of a list of questions and answers similar to those which have been used in the past in civil service examinations for the police department found in the office of the chief of police, was continued Friday by Francis W. Durbin, member of the commission.

Durbin announced his intention of going to the bottom of the affair and learning if the questions were handed out for the purpose of allowing any particular candidate to "buck up" and pass with a perfect grade.

The questions on the list found at the police station were pronounced by Durbin to be identical with those given in examinations. The list was discovered in a desk used by Captain Morton F. Dawson, during his brief tenure as police head.

LIGHT ON INCIDENT

Dawson was testifying before the grand jury Friday, as was Fred W. Zeis, the only member of the commission who has not positively denied handing the list out.

The list according to Dawson, was written out by Sergeant George Strick and dictated by Attorney W. W. Sutton.

It was written, he stated, for the benefit of a number of officers on the force who were to be examined for sergeant during the summer.

Sutton admitted Friday that he had given out a list of general questions and answers, for some of the officers to study. He could not state positively whether it is the list found at the station.

"I was asked to give them some information and answers," explained Sutton. "Just common knowledge about courts, and law. One question was what is a warrant; another what is an affidavit?"

DURBIN-BURKHARDT CLASH

Friction between Mayor Burkhardt and Commissioner Durbin developed late Thursday when the city executive called Durbin on the telephone and demanded to know if he was present at the police station as a member of the civil service commission, at roll call Wednesday.

Durbin is said to have told Mayor Burkhardt that he would visit the station whenever he so desires.

"I am protecting the city's interests," the mayor is said to have told the commissioner.

Later in the day Burkhardt is alleged to have sought to learn from other sources who had been present at roll call Wednesday, and if Durbin visited headquarters with Chief Roush.

The arguments between the two became spirited, when Burkhardt sought to learn if Durbin had been at the station as an official or on private businss, said Durbin.

"Are you trying to interrogate me?" Durbin demanded.

The mayor is also said to have sought to learn if Durbin was acting as counsel for Roush.

Durbin endeavored to get an interview with Mayor Burkhardt Friday, with the intention, he said, of learning if he is required to ask Burkhardt's permission to visit the station.

OFFICERS VISIT STATION

He also announced his intention of calling attention of Mayor Burkhardt to alleged visits to the police station by other members of the commission.

"If my visits to headquarters warrant investigation," he said, "I want him to interrogate other members as to their business there."

Major Burkhardt explained his object in questioning Durbin was plain. "If there as member of the commission, he would be asked for an explanation," the chief executive said.

Durbin said he went to the station to consult Willis Kipker, a client.

"I was there as an attorney and citizen," he declared. "It's nobody's affair when I go to the police station or who I see there."

Durbin called on Burkhardt prior to noon, and in a conference the matter was adjusted to the satisfaction of both men.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU IS PLANNED

Efforts of the Lima Merchants' association to create a Better Business Bureau to work in conjunction with the present system, are nearing maturity, according to information Friday.

Representatives of the Ft. Wayne Better Business Bureau will come to Lima Thursday evening for a general discussion with the Lima Merchants' association board of directors, to outline the plan in vogue in the Indiana city. Several members of the Better Business Association at Columbus are expected to attend the meeting.

The conference is expected to develop some stable plan whereby the Lima Merchants' association will incorporate the principles of truthful advertising and the first step toward organization of a Better Business Bureau in Lima, it was stated Thursday.

EX-ARMY SURGEON PUT TO DEATH

Electrocuted at Richmond, Va., For Murder of Wife

RICHMOND, Va.—(By Associated Press)—Dr. Wilmer Amos Hadley, former army surgeon and ranchman, was put to death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary early today for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Sue Hadley, in November, 1918.

Prison attendants declare Hadley went to his death calmly and stoically.

Hadley made no statement before death further than to say he had made his peace with God and was prepared for the end.

SENSATIONAL CASE

The execution closed one of the most sensational murder cases in the criminal history of Richmond and recalled the case a few years ago of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., to which it was similar in many respects.

Mrs. Hadley's body was found in the James river near Richmond, on December 30, 1918, by a negro trapper and was identified by the woman's sister several weeks later. A search for Dr. Hadley was begun by local authorities which carried them through many states and parts of Canada and he finally was apprehended on a ranch in New Mexico.

CONFESSION MADE

At the time of his arrest he was in disguise and under an assumed name. He was taken to Denver, Colorado, where, according to the Henry Ford Co. authorities, he made a written confession that he had killed his wife. This confession was used against him in his trial.

In the confession he declared he also shot a mysterious "Dr. Griffin," a fellow surgeon in the army, but an investigation proved this to be unfounded which Hadley finally admitted.

From the time of his arrest last August until his death today, Dr. Hadley maintained a taciturn calmness and indifference.

Fortification Question Before Conferees For First Time

EARLY AGREEMENT EXPECTED

Far Eastern Committee Adjourns Till Tomorrow

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—The rapidly moving arms conference had reached a point of comparative pause today, with the Far Eastern committee in adjournment until tomorrow and the next important step in the negotiations on naval ratio and the proposed four power treaty apparently waiting on a definite statement of the attitude of the Japanese government. Meanwhile the Japanese and Chinese delegations held another session today of their separate conference on the Shantung question, discussion of the restoration to China of the public properties in the Japanese leasehold, there having been continued yesterday without final disposition.

FORIFICATION QUESTION

As a major feature in the prospective agreements, the question of limitation of fortifications and naval bases in the Pacific islands has been brought into prominence for the first time today. Although the subject has not advanced to the stage of formal exchange the American delegates have given assurances to the Japanese that it would be considered as a natural corollary of the naval reduction plan and indications point to an ultimate agreement on the principle of abandoning further development of island defenses.

Press reports that the Japanese government had decided to accept the four power treaty plan for preserving peace in the Pacific, conditional on an agreement on the naval ratio and further application of the American "four points" to China, were accepted here as further embracing interdependence of the negotiations of those problems and as supporting the opinion that they would be advanced simultaneously to the point of a general understanding on all. Separate treaties and agreements then would remain to be drawn up to cover them.

RESPONSES AWAITED

Definite word was awaited from the French government today, as well as from Tokio as to acceptance of the principle of the proposed four power treaty. An early favorable response from France was looking for in reply to the recommendation of its delegates that their government accept a place in the new arrangement. The British government is understood to have already accepted the proposal in principle and the American delegates have proceeded to the point of indicating a willingness to discuss details.

BANDIT CAPTURED

Policeman Foils Robbery of Bank At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI.—(By Associated Press)—A man giving the name of William Rapp of this city, entered the First National Bank here this forenoon, walked up to the bank's private watchman, Harry Rusche, thrust a revolver against the police man and said: "Hands Up! Open that cage," pointing to a compartment in which was stationed an assistant cashier. The watchman, instead of raising his hands, knocked the revolver from the robber's hand, then seized him. There was a short but fierce struggle that ended when one or two other employees of the bank reached the spot and assisted the watchman.

The police say that Rapp, after his arrest, confessed to having held up a Central-av grocery store yesterday, obtaining about $25.

Rapp, according to the police, said he was out of work and desperate.

WINTER NOW HERE; AWNINGS DISAPPEAR

Winter has officially arrived in Lima.

Each year the coming of the winter king may be determined by the removal of the awnings from the Allen-ccourthouse. They are usually the last of summer to disappear.

William Foth, custodian of the county building, began the removal of the awnings Friday. Much cold weather may now be expected.

BANDIT DISARMS GUARDS, ESCAPES FROM DEATH CELL

Rioting in Walkout of Packing Employees Spreads

LITTLE ROCK Ark.—(By United Press)—Tom Slaughter notorious bandit of the southwest staged one of the most daring and spectacular prison breaks in southwestern criminal history early today when he escaped from the death cell of the state penitentiary here.

Following his escape with six other convicts Slaughter engaged in a gun battle with officers at Benton and Lonsdale and after eluding capture was believed enroute to his old haunts in Texas and Oklahoma.

Slaughter spent five hours wandering around inside the prison walls before making his final dash to liberty.

WOMEN LOCKED UP

Feigning illness Slaughter summoned a guard and asked for a blanket. The guard opening the door and advancing to the bandit's cot was covered by a gun which friends had smuggled to the prisoner.

Slaughter disarmed the guard and forced him to lead the way to the warden's office where he "covered" three guards and forced them to lay down on the floor while he disarmed them.

Next he went to the hospital where he forced a nurse to lead him to the quarters of the wife and daughter of the warden. These women he locked in the death cell.

He then threw open the lock which secured the doors of the cells and told the convicts that all who wished to accompany him could do so. Six stated their desire to attempt the escape. The others refused.

Among those who refused were six negroes under death sentence for participation in the Elaine, Ark., riots some time ago. Slaughter then locked the doors on the convicts who refused to accompany him.

Proceeding to the jail-yard, he took the tires from all automobiles in the inclosure except the one in which he planned to escape. He went to the storeroom and he, with six companions outfitted in civilian clothes.

Swinging open the great gates of the prison, Slaughter with his companions, made their escape about 2:30 a.m.—five hours from the time he gained his freedom from the death cell.

No one was injured in the spectacular escape.

Investigation by The Lima News uncovers evidence showing he was not connected with conspiracy as charged in recent statements

Shifting of blame believed to be motive for conflicting stories following slaying of Lima war hero in box car

Joseph Scott Kershaw was not slain on an order from "dope ring."

CONFEREES WILL UPROOT SNAGS

Obstacles Won't Hinder Arms Parley, Bryan Says

SURPASSES EXPECTATIONS

Declares President Harding's Optimism Justified

(BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN)

WASHINGTON.—President Harding's optimism in regard to the results of the conference is justified. He said in a recent address that the negotiations promised to "succeed beyond our fondest hopes."

The delegates can do nothing themselves. They speak for the government which they represent and the governments must act with caution because they speak for the people, and the people exercise an increasing influence over their government.

The conference is proceeding as fast as could be expected. It has already made unexpected progress; the results achieved are beyond the anticipations of the most sanguine.

Everything has proceeded without a hitch.

Can't Settle All.

The conference cannot settle all problems—some are not yet ripe for settlement, but the momentum is increasing and will in time overcome all obstacles. It is reported that the Japanese government agrees to the "four-power" understanding which seems likely to be substituted for the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

This agreement contemplates a period of discussion before war and that in itself is sufficient to greatly decrease the chances of international trouble in the Pacific.

Japan did not enter into a treaty with the United States for the investigation of all disputes before resort to war. She was one of the big nations that did not, but this was doubtless due to the dispute over the California land laws.

ALLIANCE MADE HARMLESS

In ratifying the Versailles treaty which contained the covenant of the League of Nations, Japan endorsed the 30-treaty plan. Great Britain and France have endorsed the plan both in treaties with the United States and in the League of Nations.

The much-discussed Anglo-Japanese alliance was made harmless by the treaty between the United States and Great Britain signed on September 15, 1914, which gave a year's time for investigation before resort to war.

The agreement covering the islands in the Pacific will make it easier to establish a tribunal in which all the nations will join, providing machinery for the investigation of all disputes before the contracting nations can use violence. It is not strange that nations so well supplied for machinery for war should have waited so long to provide machinery for peace?

NEW SWINDLE PLAN FAILS AT ST. MARYS

ST. MARYS.—A new plan adopted by forgers came near costing Ellis Lewis, landlord of the Hotel Fountain here, $342. Lewis was summoned to the telephone and was informed that the other party on the line was H. G. McClain, of the St. Marys Banking & Trust company.

"I have a friend here from Dayton who wishes to have a check cashed. Our vault is closed; would you mind cashing it?" the supposed McClain asked.

Lewis gave assurance that he would be glad to do so. A little later a smooth looking stranger called at the hotel and presented a check for $342. Lewis did not have that amount of money at hand and was asked by the stranger if he could get it for him elsewhere.

When Lewis went to the phone and called for McClain, the stranger disappeared. Later, McClain disclaimed knowledge of such an incident.

REALTY LOANS AT THE FRONT

Outdistance Rail Securities Held by Insurance Men

DATA GIVEN AT CONVENTION

Association Presidents Open Meeting in New York

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Real estate mortgage loans have far outdistanced railroad securities as the leading investment held by life insurance companies, according to original statistics submitted to the 15th annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents here today.

Speaking on "A Decade of Life Insurance Investments," A. S. Wing, president of the Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia, stated that the real estate mortgage loans of the life companies have doubled in ten years, increasing from $1,228,000,000 at the end of 1911 to $2,165,000,000 on October 31 of this year.

POLICY LOANS THIRD

Investments in railroad securities were $1,755,000,000 at the end of 1911 as against $1,783,000,000 at the end of 1920. Real estate mortgage loans form more than 32 per cent of the total assets of the companies now, while railroad securities, which formed more than 35 per cent 10 years ago, have dropped to 26 per cent. Policy loans of $20,000,000 rank third, and United States government bonds of $7,720,000 are a close fourth, being 11.50 per cent of the assets. Other investments include state, county and municipal bonds and real estate. The total assets of the companies are in excess of $7,500,000,000.

Referring to the huge increase in real estate mortgage loans, President Wing said much of it had gone to the farmers, but that there is now a discernible trend toward the city again to meet housing requirements. On this point he said: "In order that this convention might have the latest data as to the trend of life insurance investments in mortgage loans, 47 companies holding more than 95 per cent of the assets of American companies have just made reports showing the total amount of their farm and city mortgages as of October 31, 1921.

"I find that $261,900,000 has been added in the ten months from December 31, 1920, to October 31, 1921, making a total of $2,468,600,000 real estate mortgage loans on October 31 of this year.

"Of this total, $1,247,300,000 is on farm property and $1,221,300,000 on city property. Therefore, for the first time in many years, if not for the first time in the history of the country, the total amount of loans held by life insurance companies now exceeds the loans on city property, the proportion being 50.5 per cent on farms as against 49.5 per cent on city property. Of the increase of $261,900,000 in mortgage loans during the first ten months of this year, $161,300,000 is in farm mortgages and $100,000,000 in city mortgages. The increase in farm mortgages is greater in amount than the increase in city mortgages during these ten months, as was the case in 1920, but there is still the same tendency that I previously pointed out, namely, to increase the proportion of loans on city property as compared with farms.

Please note, during 1918 and 1919, that 91.62 per cent of all the net increase in loans was on farm property and 8.37 per cent on city property. In 1920, the proportion of money invested in farm loans dropped 63.78 per cent, while the city loans increased to 36.22 per cent.

"During the first ten months of 1921, the same tendency has continued and the proportion of farm loans has dropped to 61.59 per cent while that on city property has increased to 38.41 per cent. With justifiable pride, speaking at an insurance gathering, I can point to the investment of life insurance funds where the greatest need of the nation has called. During the last six years it was vital for this nation, for itself and the part it was playing, that our agriculture should be stimulated to highest productivity. That the companies met this condition is shown in the percentage of agricultural loans. There is at the moment another imperative demand—that of construction catching up with deferred building in our cities. The national tendency of insurance company investments to meet imperative, justifiable demands is made equally clear in the now perceptible trend toward city loans again."

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU? Would you invest Five Thousand Dollars in a bona fide National Proposition manufactured in Lima? If you could be shown beyond any reasonable doubt that returns to you annually would amount to Twenty Thousand Dollars or more? This is not a get rich scheme or an experiment, but a proposition that is now in the working that requires $5,000.00 for expansion. For information as to how and where, address BOX 130

PRINCESS DIES BY OWN HAND

Facts in Chinese Boy Emperor's Mother's Death Revealed

RESULT OF PLOTTER ROW

Simms Throws Light on Scheme to Restore Monarchy

(BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS) Written Expressly for The Lima News

WASHINGTON—One more amazing chapter must be added to the international intrigue to put the deposed Boy Emperor back on the throne of China.

Despite powerful efforts to keep the tragedy a secret, it is now known that Princess Chun, the lad's mother, did not die a natural death as stated, but committed suicide after a scene between herself and the empress dowager.

There is a friend in Peking I have just come into possession of the scene details.

The story throws into vivid relief the morbid atmosphere out of which certain British, Japanese, and Chinese plotters would lift their candidate to the dragon throne.

PLOTTING FOR YEAR

For more than a year these international schemers have been promoting a match between the boy emperor Hsuan Tung, now 17, and the young daughter of Hsu Shih-chang, president of China.

They believe the marriage of the Manchu "emperor" and the Chinese girl would please the southern Chinese and thus remove the objections to a restoration.

The empress dowager, according to my informant, is an ardent supporter of this match. The boy emperor's mother, the Princess Chun, was just as ardently against it. She preferred her great niece—daughter of her nephew and the boy's first cousin—instead.

The boy emperor himself, it is said, does not want to marry either one, his choice being his own mother's young sister; in short his aunt.

LAD BACKS MOTHER

The "Lord of Ten Thousand Years," as the lad is called, sided with his mother and was willing to take his first cousin to wed instead of either his aunt or the daughter of President Hsu.

The empress dowager was furious, it is said, and called the boy's mother on the carpet. The young "emperor" objected and took his mother's part.

On Oct. 1 the Princess Chun took opium and died.

ANOTHER VERSION

Another version has it that the court physician one day failed to save the empress dowager the respect she felt was her due, whereupon she called the boy emperor down.

Prince and Princess Chun took their son's part and the quarrel followed.

Whichever story is true, the Princess Chun today lies in a suicide's grave; the empress dowager is slowly recovering from illness; Prince Chun is broken over the loss of his wife and the boy emperor is in mourning for his mother.

Still the international plotting goes on.

Found In Colorado Snow After Third Man Perishes

How Herbert G. Kutz, 28, former Toledo man, met a tragic death from freezing and exposure in the snow-covered mountains of Colorado; how his rigid body and his two companions, both near death from over-exertion and cold, were found by A. E. Harshe, Y. M. C. A. secretary in Denver, and who formerly resided at 626 N. Elizabeth-st., was flashed to this city Friday afternoon just after the arrival of Mrs. Harshe and children to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Rublein, 644 N. Elizabeth-st.

Kutz, employed by the Texas Oil company in Denver, met death when an automobile in which he and two friends had left Denver on a hunting expedition, became stalled in a snow drift in the mountains, miles away from any community. The three labored in zero temperature thru one night in their efforts to get the machine back on the highway. Early in the morning Kutz fell over dead. His face, feet and hands were frozen.

Harshe, in company with Roy Wingate, son of Mont Wingate, formerly member of the Lima police force, found the dead man and his two companions, the latter near death from exposure, as they were passing the spot in an automobile. First aid was given the survivors and they were later taken to Denver with the body of their companion.

CLASH COMES IN FORECAST

WEATHER forecasts are tricky things. Perverse temperature likes to do the very thing the forecaster predicts it won't do. This is understood by most everyone—and nobody cares much about it, anyway.

December continues in its determination to afford fall instead of winter conditions and according to the latest forecast release, it will be fair tonight and Saturday and warmer Saturday.

The prognosticator doesn't say so, but any number of goosebone prophecies and those who hold that aching corns are infallible signs that rain is near at hand, will tell you their corns are hurting something fierce. So look out for a downpour and don't be disappointed if the prospect fails of realization.

URGES ROCK PILE

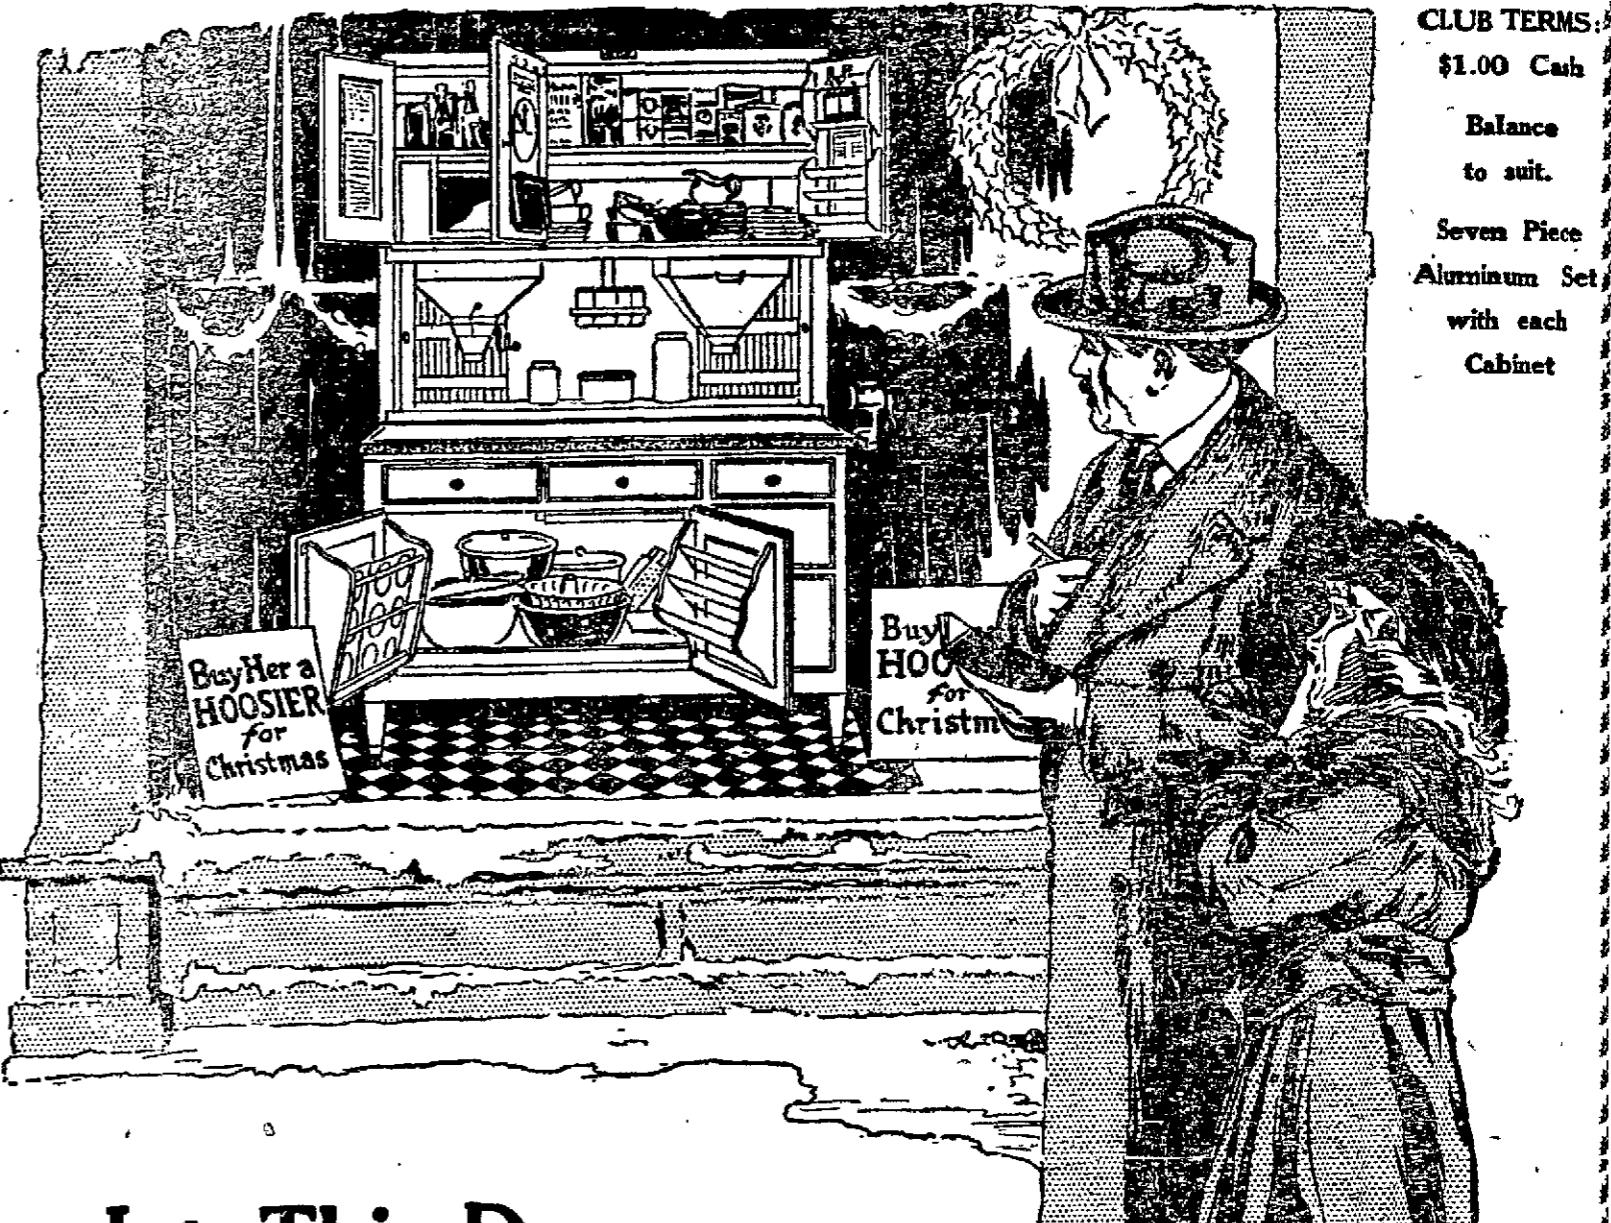

Safety Director Would Make Prisoners Work

Director of Safety D. W. Dorris advocates the return to the old rock-pile system, by which prisoners who are incarcerated in the city jail can be made to work out their fines.

At present if a prisoner refuses to pay a fine for a misdemeanor the court has but little choice but to free him. The fund from which prisoners are fed is low, despite the fact the allowance per meal is but 1 cent. Formerly it was 25. Dorris reduced the ration allowance sharply after taking office. There is also considerable pain and repair work needed about the safety building and the safer prisoners. The only thing to prevent having work done in the jail is the lack of money. The city has no funds available for the purchase of paint. Dorris believes the work could be done.

Herbert G. Kutz, 28, former Toledo man, met a tragic death from freezing and exposure in the snow-covered mountains of Colorado; his rigid body and his two companions, both near death from exposure, as they were passing the spot in an automobile. First aid was given the survivors and they were later taken to Denver with the body of their companion.

Don't Worry About Size—A Fit Assured After Christmas

WEATHER forecasts are tricky things. Perverse temperature likes to do the very thing the forecaster predicts it won't do. This is understood by most everyone—and in nobody cares much about it, anyway.

December continues in its determination to afford fall instead of winter conditions and according to the latest forecast release, 'twill be fair tonight and Saturday and warmer Saturday. The prognosticator doesn't say so, but any number of goosebone prophets and those who hold that aching corns are infallible signs that rain is near at hand, will tell you their corns are hurting something fierce.

So look out for a downpour and don't be disappointed if the prospect fails of realization.

URGES ROCK PILE

Safety Director Would Make Prisoners Work

Director of Safety D. W. Dorris advocates the return to the old rock-pile system, by which prisoners who are incarcerated in the city jail can be made to work out their fines.

At present if a prisoner refuses to pay a fine for a misdemeanor, the court has but little choice but to free him. The fund from which prisoners are fed is low, despite the fact that the allowance per meal is but 16 cents. Formerly it was 25. Dorris reduced the ration allowance shortly after taking office.

There is also considerable painting and repair work needed about the safety building and the safer believes the work could be done by prisoners.

The only thing to prevent having the work done in the way suggested is lack of money.

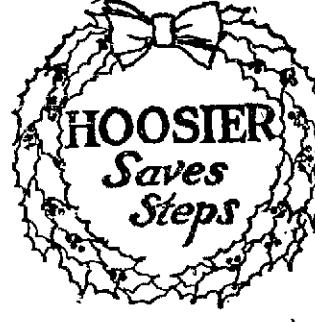

The city has no funds available for the purchase of paint, Dorris said.

HELD IN WALL-ST. BLAST PROBE

Omaha Man Taken as Suspect
—Claims Alibi

OMAHA, Neb. — (By United Press) — The latest attempt to fix the blame for the Wall-st. bomb outrage of September 16, 1920, "flivered" today, when Mike Stine, a Bulgarian hotel clerk, arrested last night following receipt of a mysterious note, established a alibi.

At the time of the explosion, Stine was doing a "strong man act" with a carnival company appearing at the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities in Omaha, he declared. Police believe his story, but are still holding him pending further investigation.

No trace of the mysterious sender of the note which caused Stine's arrest, has been found.

When arrested Stine was working

as night clerk at the Grand Hotel, a cheap lodging house in the foreign quarter.

Eight hours of third degree questioning have failed to change Stine's story that he has not been in New York since 1902, police said.

The unsigned note, which led to Stine's arrest, read:

"Go south of Harvard-st. Find a dark-skinned man with long black hair, wearing a green sweater with red stripe and red collar. He runs a rooming house. Ask him if he was ever in San Francisco and ask him if he drove the one-horse wagon of dynamite in Wall-st."

DISEASE-PROOF POTATO

LONDON — A new potato, called Dr. Vernon, exhibited here, is said to be immune from disease and to yield heavily. A single potato bought last year, its owner said produced 56 pounds of tubers last season.

OHIO ELECTRIC LOSES IN LIGHT RATE BATTLE

State public utilities commission has overruled the Ohio Electric company's appeal for a higher light rate scheduled in this city and ratified council's ordinance of August 2, 1920, which fixed the present rate to remain effective until August 2, 1922.

Under the ruling all electric light, power and fuel tariffs will stand as at present. The light schedule as fixed by council calls for a charge of from 8 1/2 to three cents per kilowatt hour for current used. A discount of five per cent is allowed on all bills paid at the company's office on or before the 10th of the month.

A rate of four cents per kilowatt hour, without discount being allowed, was fixed for the boulevard lighting system.

MY AGENTS GET 10 STILLS

War on Between Officials and Liquor Runners

LOUISVILLE.—By Associated Press—Federal prohibition agents in Kentucky have just concluded one of the largest raids in the history of prohibition enforcement in the state. The result to date is that the bandits likewise have just pleted one of the most successful

raids ever made in Kentucky. This is the result to date this in the war between federal agents and rum runners.

Following a busy week in three

Kentucky counties, federal agents were in search for the upward of one thousand whisky bandits who last night in a spectacular raid, got away with 194 cases of bottled in bond and ten barrels of whisky from the T. B. Ripy distillery at Tyrone, Ky.

STILLS SMASHED

Early in the week, 10 prohibition enforcement agents with Robert Blackburn, chief agent, at the head, invaded Nelson, Washington and Marion cos. When the agents came out late yesterday the raid had yielded seven prisoners, ten stills and 38 foundations were broken up, and 30,000 gallons of beer and 68 gallons of moonshine whisky were destroyed. Warrants for a number of other alleged law violators have been issued as a result of the raid.
Meantime, several raids in Louisville have netted small quantities of wert goods.

The bandits, in raiding the Ripy distillery, captured four guards and three passersby and after handcuffing them, put them in a vault in the distillery office while they loaded the whisky into motor trucks and automobiles and drove off.

SCHOOLS OF LIMA ARE CROWDED

Report Compiled During "Better School Week"

GAIN 1,611 IN SIX YEARS

Comprehensive Statement of Educational Facts

Enrollment in the public schools of Lima during the past six years has far surpassed building facilities, according to a report issued Friday by Superintendent of Schools J. E. Collins.

The increase, which applies to all departments of the public schools is 1,611, or 27 per cent. This increase is equivalent to the necessary number of pupils to occupy space provided in three of the largest schools.

These facts were compiled by Collins after a visit had been made by the principals of all Lima schools to the elementary, social and crippled children's schools, as a feature of the Educational Week of "Better School Week" movement.

BUILDINGS CROWDED

According to Collins, the rapid increase in school enrollment is crowding building facilities. During the past six years the senior high school has grown 64 per cent.

With the schools of the city crowded beyond legal capacity in 1916, that year marked the beginning of a building program to relieve existing conditions and provide for the normal growth in school attendance. Since that date the increase has been 1,611, or from 5,964 to a total for the present year of 7,575. This increase alone is almost equal to the enrollment in any three of our largest elementary buildings, the report states.

At the time of completion of the new buildings three years ago, including South High School, the system was changed from the 8-4 to the 6-6 plan of six years in the grade buildings, and six in the high schools. This plan of reducing the years in the grades to six relieved the congestion in the grade schools for the time, while the completion of South High gave opportunity to bring the seventh and eighth grades into the two high schools. At that time Central and South were organized on the six-year plan to include both the Junior and Senior high schools.

At the same time this has been a period of marked growth in the population of the city, Collins points out. In comparison the growth in school enrollment of 1,611 is even more marked with the result that the attendance is again up to the legal capacity of the building facilities.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

The first six grades, reflecting more largely the growth in population, show a gain of 776, or 18 per cent. The gain for the seventh and eighth grades now known as the Junior high school has been 295, or 31 per cent, while the Senior high school covering the last four years of the course has gained 540, or 64 per cent. It is evident that the popularity of the Junior high school, together with the proximity of South high to the students in that part of the city and the extension of the elective system to meet the needs of vocational and commercial students at both schools have increased the holding power through the high school years. As a result both high schools at the present time are housing pupils beyond their normal capacity. The total enrollment at Central is 1,537; at South High 1,927.

The report prepared by Collins further reads:

"During this same period the night school has been organized as a permanent part of the school system under state and federal aid, such funds for both the day and evening vocational classes bring annually approximately $10,000. At the present time the enrollment in the night schools at Central and South and in local industries is about 800. Classes are organized in vocational subjects and Americanization. There is no age limit except that the students must be over 16 and many have been enrolled over 60 years of age. At present 64 women are studying millinery, while 94 are taking courses in dressmaking. Classes are organized in cooking as well as the various commercial subjects. Among the vocational classes for men the largest is automobile construction and repair with 68 under four instructors. The class in electricity is almost as large, while 68 under 18 years of age are taking the night courses in Junior high school subjects."

SPECIAL SCHOOLS

"Five years ago the first special school for orphans or retarded pupils was organized. At the present time there are eight. Four of these are for the younger children in the lower grades, and are located at the Garfield, Horace Mann, Whittier and Lincoln schools. Two for overage 5-6 grade girls, with emphasis on the home-making courses, are in the Garfield and Whittier buildings, while two schools for overage 5-6 grade boys in pre-vocational or manual courses are located in the Central and Whittier buildings.

"In addition to these eight special schools organized in the past five years, a special school for crippled children was organized last September. At present the Board of Education receives up to $300 per child or a total of $4,500 for the year from the state for transportation, instruction and mid-day luncheon of these 15 crippled children. Thru the work of the Lima Rotary Club many of these received surgical and other treatment with braces and crutches making them physically fit to attend school, with similar service to many other crippled children who have attended the regular grade schools.

"In addition the schools have had the cooperation of many social and child welfare associations and individuals in bettering the conditions of school children.

"The recent generous approval by the parents themselves on November 8th in voting three mills for a period of five years must be accepted as the one outstanding event of the year in school support. With this confidence and pledge of loyal support by the people of the city—the parents of the boys and girls,—every teacher must feel it as her duty and pleasure to be of the largest possible service to the schools now and in the years to come; and the Board of Education will find it possible to continue to maintain the schools in the interest of every boy and girl enrolled, whether in the elementary or high schools or the special classes.

"Likewise in presenting the merits of the millage levy, as well as in all other matters of educational welfare the schools have appreciated the helpful attitude on the part of the local press, in presenting the issues in the interest of a progressive, efficient administration of school affairs.

PARENTS COOPERATE

"It is naturally pleasing to those in the schools to enjoy the support and cooperation of parents and the community generally to such a marked degree. On the other hand it must be equally gratifying to parents and those who support the schools to know that the Lima system is maintained on a conservative basis of cost as compared with other cities. The salaries of our 222 teachers are but average for the cities of the state, the local school bonded indebtedness is among the lowest of the State being but $549,700 aside from the deficiency bonds, while the school indebtedness of Hamilton, the next city below us in size, is $719,000 and Lakewood next above us has a school indebtedness of $3,623,000.

"In matters of school attendance less than three per cent of the homes show a disregard for regular and prompt attendance. Under prevailing industrial and economic conditions the schools have noted with appreciation the special effort being made this year to keep children in regular attendance. In meeting the conditions which all hope to be but temporary school officials have extended such aid as might alleviate conditions. In order that the schools may be available to all children within school age.

"In the spirit that prompted "Better School Week" as a national observance, it is to be hoped that thru continued cooperation and mutual understanding the schools and the homes of Lima, with other cooperative agencies, may come to a fuller realization year by year of the largest possible service to every youth enrolled in our city schools."

SELF RELIANCE GOES BANKRUPT

Thin Blood Saps Energy
Gude's Pepto-Mangan
Rebuilds the Blood

Wrestling with a weakened condition of the blood is a desperate struggle. Thin, watery blood deprives the body of energy and causes a played-out feeling not unlike utter exhaustion. A man with weak blood has not the full use of his powers. He lacks decision, and vacillates until he loses self-confidence.

Some men and women too, go faltering along for months scarcely realizing that they need Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the blood builder. But when they have taken it for a while, what a difference there is in the feelings! The old-time vigor and the red-blooded bair of good health return. The new rich blood gets to work, building, fortifying, lifting the spirit up to its normal standard.

Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for years as a blood-builder. Drugists sell it in liquid and tablet form. Look for the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.

WARREN YOUNG MAN IS TRAPPED BY PRETTY FACE

WARREN—The magnetism of a pretty face accomplished what the watchfulness of the police could not do when a 16-year-old Warren youth was captured charged with molesting women here during the past six months.

Police evolved the plan of a pretty woman helping capture the culprit. For ten days, a special operation walked the streets after dark. One night a man jumped from behind a tree and grabbed her. She wielded a "blackjack" dexterously. The victim was dragged to jail. He has been identified by women he has molested.

The "pretty face" was owned by Floyd Pardee, a man, who appeared here as a woman impersonator.

The incorporation simply shows a slight change in the stock of the company operating the Lima House. H. O. Bentley, attorney and one of the incorporators said, "There is no change in the present company or operation of the house; things will go on as before," Bentley said.

The incorporation papers were filed at Columbus, Friday.

Lack of Vitamines In Our Daily Food

Causes Thin, Weak, Run-down Conditions

Dr. Harrow of Columbia University says "Vitamines in Food Necessary to Sustain Life."

Science Finds a Perfect Vitamin Food

For the first time, on record, a perfectly balanced Vitaminine Tonic Food is offered the people of Lima with its efficacy scientifically proven in one of our oldest and best known Medical Colleges in this country.

SUSTO is the name of this preparation. It is a combination in convenient tablet form of the nutritive and growth-promoting properties of Milk, Yeast, Rice, Eggs and Beef, together with Beef Protein, Nuclein and Iron.

Its composition being based on medical experience and the latest discoveries in nutrition, there was reason to believe it would meet the widespread need for a dependable reconstructive in cases of malnutrition, under-development of children, certain forms of anaemia, general debility, blood impoverishment and loss of weight and as an upholder for convalescents. Yet, regarding the responsibility connected with offering it for general use, the makers of SUSTO decided to secure indisputable proof of its actual value.

So, the preparation was submitted to Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Professor of Physiological Chemistry of Medical College, Philadelphia, with instructions to definitely ascertain its worth in the most conclusive way known to science.

Under his personal supervision the formula was perfected and subjected to a series of therapeutic and feeding tests on normal and sick human beings, with unusual success in every instance.

By its use under-weight persons gained flesh rapidly, the weak were made strong—and health and energy replaced weakened, run-down conditions. Thus in the final report of this investigation it was stated that SUSTO is a tonic food of the greatest value for malnutrition and its allied diseases.

Thompson's 3 Drug Stores are enthusiastic in regard to SUSTO, the retail agency for which he has selected this territory. Ask about SUSTO at Thompson's 3 Drug Stores. If you try the treatment for one month at a cost of 10c a day and you are not in better health every way—weigh more and feel stronger they will return your money.

LEAGUE MEETING TEST IN SAAR

Mines Given to France For German Destruction

To workers in the mines and mills of Europe the League of Nations, international treaties, peace and war are realities that affect their daily work—not phases as they are to most of us. Whiting Williams is telling Lima News readers what he learned about the European workers' viewpoint in a "pick and shovel" investigation. This is Williams' sixth article.

BY WHITING WILLIAMS
AM A GOOD GERMAN, you understand. Still I must say that the French proprietors are paying us better and treat us better than the Prussian state officials.

These surprising words came from an employee of the French government now in control of the coal mines of the Saar district, located on the north central edge of Alsace-Lorraine.

These mines were given over to France as reparation for the destruction of coal pits of Lens. The district is under the control of a commission of five chosen to represent the League of Nations. Several thousand French soldiers are at the disposition of the commissioners.

Altogether the Saar gives a mighty good demonstration of just about the most important thing I've run onto—the huge importance to us all of our daily jobs.

If the League of Nations' officials will keep that in mind and help the coal miners and steel workers of the Saar district to keep happily at work, it will mean a lot for the peace of the world.

There's nothing in the world today that interests the workers of Europe and of America, too—anythink like so much as just that.

ACTS AS ATTORNEY IN OWN CASE; IS JAILED

WAPAKONETA — Acting as his own attorney, John Kuhiman, former Minister grocer, on trial in the court of R. G. Herrmann, justice of the peace here on charge of failing to send his 14 year old daughter to school, was found guilty by a jury in 30 minutes. Justice Herrmann sentenced Kuhiman to jail for 30 days and to pay a fine of $200.

MAY END STRIKE
CLEVELAND — A meeting of the milk wagon drivers and chauffeur's union has been called for tonight when a compromise proposition, drawn up by a special committee of city council, will be submitted in the hopes of settling the strike of 300 employees of the Telling Belle-Vernon Company, which has been in effect here for more than a month.

BARON CASE WILL GO TO JURY LATE TODAY

CLEVELAND — The case of M. H. Baron, wealthy Brooklyn cafe owner, and Ida Simon and Hyman Barnett of Pittsburgh, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the alleged illegal shipment of whisky from Pittsburgh to Youngstown, will go to the jury this afternoon. Taking of evidence was concluded yesterday.

When court opened, Assistant United States District Attorney Joseph C. Breitenstein was prepared to sum up the government's case. Breitenstein contends that Baron withdrew liquor from a Pittsburgh warehouse to be sold in Youngstown for beverage purposes. A shipment of 500 cases was seized by Youngstown police.

Baron's counsel deny the conspiracy charge. They claim Baron withdrew the whisky to be transported to Brooklyn for medicinal purposes.

WAPAKONETA — Lafe W. Kuehning, postmaster of New Bremen, whose term is soon to expire and who intended taking the civil service test as a candidate for reappointment, has withdrawn from the race and will move to this city, to become secretary of the City Loan & Savings company.

DEMAND TRAINS BE RESTORED

ST. MARYS — A resolution was adopted in the chamber of commerce here, calling upon the L. E. & W. Railroad company to restore two passenger trains recently eliminated from the daily schedule. All commercial organizations along the line between Sandusky and Muncie are being requested to cooperate in the demand.

Pascal Machall, 25, of 809 Racine-av, Chicago, was brought back to Lima early Friday morning to face a charge of stealing a Buick touring car from R. G. Barnhardt. He was in custody of Patrolman J. Machall denies connection with the case and says he was never in Lima before. He was arrested by the Chicago police. He is to be arraigned late Friday it is announced.

DEATH ROW HIGH MARK REACHEDNew Record Set in Number of Ohio's Doomed Men

10 TO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Seven to Pay Supreme Penalty Within Three MonthsCOLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press)—Population of the "death row" at the Ohio penitentiary has reached 10. Seven men in the "angel" unless reprieved, hinder, of the present population, will step thru the green door to oblivion; three have been granted indefinite releases, but they still occupy cells in the annex, and are counted on among its population.Once before the number of men waiting to be electrocuted reached 10, and that was considered an unusually high mark.Roy Chamblin of Portsmouth, who recently murdered John Newman and Louise Doyle, and Samuel Purpura, youthful Cleveland payroll bandit, charged with being implicated in the Sly-Fanner payroll robbery, are perhaps the most notorious of the seven men awaiting death.

SMUGGLE ATTEMPTED

Penitentiary officials just the other week frustrated an attempt on the part of Purpura's sister to smuggle a gun in to him."There probably would have been some widows around here, if we hadn't got the gun," said Frank Howell, secretary to Warden Thomas."Purpura had nothing to lose and everything to gain."Chamblin is slated to be electrocuted February 24. Purpura will go to his death February 10, unless orders of the governor intervene.Harry Lee Bland, of Meigs-co, is to die January 9; John McGuire of Lucas-co, February 3; Walter Wallace Wright, Jefferson-co, March 1, and Arthur Harding, Lucas-co, February 24, making a double electrocution on that date. All seven of the elec-tricitions come within the three months January, February and March.Joe Mack, to have been electrocuted Oct. 3; Charles W. Harbig, Cuyahoga-co, September 20, and Edward Moffett, Summit-co, September 30, all have been granted indefinite stays of execution. Mack was sent up from Summit-co.SLOAN'S EASES PAIN

OPEN LETTERS

To City Commissioners

MY FRIENDS: According to announcement thru the columns of my favorite newspaper, it is your intention to release Saturday the name of the man who is to be the manager of my city, under the new form of government, to be inaugurated on January 1.

I have every confidence that you will choose wisely and well and that the business boss of my city to be designated by your board will measure up to the specifications heretofore outlined in this department. That nothing less than a big man, a capable executive, an organizer, a builder and a personage able to properly represent this city on any and all occasions will be acceptable to you, I feel certain.

If, perchance, you should err, the mistake will most likely be one of the head and not of the heart, for I am satisfied that each and every one of you has closest to his heart the interests and welfare of our wonderful city.

LIMA BEANE.

To Governor Davis

DEAR HARRY: I believe you are right in feeling that there is no need of calling the Legislature into session unless that body has something to work on in the way of a program of taxation that can be adopted and which will afford the relief your administration promised and which the state needs badly.

Considering your election was brought about largely on specific promises of tax revision and the adoption of measures that would remedy a tense situation, I believe you will agree with me that the onus is upon you, late the it is, to point the way. Your failure to map out a program and the hindrance you are offering to others who would do so, is not flattering to your administration.

As I see it, you should aid in working out the right plan and then get busy. Political promises are easily made; keeping them is another sort of thing, viewing your position.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Elks

MY FRIENDS: Pleasing indeed is the announcement made that you are to have 700 of the poor kiddies of my city, who would not otherwise have an opportunity to participate in the real joys of Yuletide, as your guests the afternoon of December 24, in a Christmas party.

Past experience in the result of your undertakings is proof that this forthcoming event will be the success intended. The things you plan are usually made a splendid success, hence the kiddies are anticipating with a great measure of pleasure the opportunity to greet Santa Claus with you.

"Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of these, My brethren, ye do it also unto Me," words of the lowly Nazarene.

LIMA BEANE.

To Dr. D. F. Helms

REVEREND SIR: I like the sort of advice you handed to fathers of boys at the "Father and Son" banquet held in my city, as the opening gun in a campaign for betterment of the boys.

Agreeing with you what the boys read largely controls their future, is easy. Too much care and caution cannot be exercised in seeing to it that the juvenile mind is stocked with the right sort of knowledge disclosed in literature. The right kind of pictures should be hung upon the walls of their intellect.

LIMA BEANE.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Three years ago the British said there would be peace in Ireland by Christmas. Hope this is the Christmas.

ABE MARTIN

The garment workers are goin' on another strike, but th' garment workers 'll continue th' policy of watchin' and waitin'. Who remembers when th' feller that took what he could git was regarded as a poor business man?

To Abandonment Opponents

FRINEDS: Trusting that you, representatives of the forces seeking to prevent the abandonment of service on the Lima-Defiance division of the I. C. & E. Railway, will meet with success in your efforts before the state public utilities commission at Columbus on December 14, I wish to commend your determination to oppose stopping operation of cars on that line.

I cannot understand why the receiver should make application for permission to abandon the line as a non-earning agency when it is considered, as I understand the situation, it is required to pay its part of big salaries to receiver and engineers. Why not cut off some of that expense and give the road a fair chance, while affording service to a territory that needs service badly?

LIMA BEANE.

To Bishop Robert Harris

MY DEAR BISHOP: I have been following with no small amount of interest the thought expressed in your series of sermons, delivered each evening at Christ Episcopal church in my city and must confess that your presentation of argument in favor of men and women embracing the Christian religion is getting the right sort of results, bringing home as you do to your auditors the powerful truths of religion.

The skeptic and the agnostic may find what they feel to be contentment back of the supposed bulwarks of their line of reasoning, but as you are laying bare undeniable truths of Holy Writ and the Omnipotence of God, it appears to me that the foundations of antipathy to the teachings of the Nazarene existing in any mind afforded the opportunity of hearing your reasoning, loosened in words, must be severely shaken, if indeed not toppled.

LIMA BEANE.

To A. C. Cajaob

DEAR AL: Please accept my congratulations on your election to the honored position of president of my Kiwanis club. The body of men you have been chosen to direct during the forthcoming year is one of which I am justly proud.

The big things Kiwanis has aided in putting over in my city in the past is proof sufficient for me that its good work will be carried on in other directions.

They're a fine lot of folks, Al. I feel your tenure of office is going to be pleasant and under your direction the best sort of results will be attained during the year.

LIMA BEANE.

To Dr. J. J. Sutter

MY DEAR SIR: As health commissioner of Allen-co I desire to commend you for the part you played in arranging a tuberculosis clinic in my city, at the Red Cross Health center two days this week.

Results of the examination of 43 persons, according to announcement made, indicate that there is need of more of these clinics, attended by more publicity and by more far-reaching efforts. That 16 positive cases of tuberculosis were disclosed and six suspicious ones found in the examination, shows one-half the people presented affected by the dread white plague germ.

Announcement of another clinic to be held in January for the benefit of the people of my city is gratifying. I feel that the plan is an excellent one for fighting tuberculosis.

LIMA BEANE.

To Members of the Disarmament Conference

HONORABLE SIRS: Every mother in Lima, as every mother in the world, is praying that you will bring about a century-old hope of mothers that war will be banished from the earth and their sons need no longer be sacrificed in fighting.

They expect much but it is in your power to do much.

Those good old songs, those tender songs,
Those southern ballads gentle,
That always make the madding throngs
Grow soft and sentimental—

Down South in Alabama!"

Those songs that say, "Oh let me down Down where the live oaks quiver"

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well Habits That Spread Disease

Since prohibition there has been more poison, masked under the name of whisky, swallowed recklessly that we should attempt to reckon.

Many people have learned to drink since it has become prohibited in the same spirit that the small boy goes behind the barn or garage to indulge in a cornsilk cigarette. Were they drinking ante-prohibition liquor, the harm to their systems and especially to their livers would not be so great.

The liver will bear up under continual strain for an amazing length of time. But when it does break down it is difficult to repair it.

The quickest way to wear out the liver is by making it continually fight against poisons thrown into the body. One of the liver's greatest duties is to protect the body from toxins or poisons. It will do this effectively for a long time.

For instance, a man drinks a little too much whisky or some other alcoholic beverage. Even if it is good whisky he throws a strain on the liver. The liver does its work and the man either feels no effects or he finds the need for a purge after which he feels better. He keeps up this habit for years and then suddenly he finds he has developed cirrhosis of the liver.

Poisons against which the liver protects us are not always poisons when they are swallowed. The bacteria in the large intestines make poisons or toxins out of certain parts of the food substances. They are absorbed into the blood stream of the intestines, and the liver, when working properly, can convert them into harmless chemicals.

Some organs like the lungs are liable to infection, but the liver is very seldom crippled except from overwork. Bad habits, again we see, are the forerunners of much illness.

TONSILS QUICKLY BURNED OUT

New York Specialist Does This Without Pain

RADIUM IS THE MEANS USED

Perfects Method After Nine
Years of Study

NEW YORK.—(Special)—"Yes,
madam?"

"Ah—tonsils, madam?"

"Yes—and won't you be seated?"

You sit down.

"Open your mouth—there now—

Just 20 minutes, please!"

Holding a little instrument, not like a fountain pen, in your mouth, you sit for 20 minutes.

Then:

"There, that's all now!"

And out you go—maybe you haven't even taken your hat off—

minus your tonsils!

RADIUM DOES IT

Radium which you held in the instrument in your mouth melted the tonsils away. No blood, no knives, no pain, only 20 minutes of your time gone, and you can continue your working and playing and eating as if you'd never had a tonsil!

Dr. A. Graham Biddle, New York specialist, is perfecting the radium treatment for tonsils. He has been working nine years to eliminate the danger, blood and pain of tonsil removal.

METHOD SIMPLE

"The method," says Dr. Biddle, "is exceedingly simple. The patient needs no previous treatment or preparation. The attending physician would assist perhaps in adjusting the radium pencil so that it would strike the tonsil—after that the pa-folded three times. That little ridge is allowed to remain.

MAKES EXPERIMENTS

"Radium has interested me intensely. I watched its effect on cancer and it occurred to me that tonsils might be removed that way.

"So, experimenting with removed tonsils, I found that Gamma radium (there are three classes of radium, Alpha, Beta and Gamma, all of which have a different action) would dissolve the fibrous tissue of the tonsil."

The treatment, Biddle says, never requires more than 20 minutes.

"And that's all there is to it." Biddle, a rather genial, heavy-voiced man, snapped his thumb and third finger, "no blood and no tonsils lying around on the table!"

The Congregational church is one that lends itself well to a concert and when decorated as it was Thursday afternoon is, indeed, beautiful.

The decorations were of feathered asparagus forms, small Christmas trees and a glorious Christmas star, a wreath, all in keeping with the annual Christmas program of the Woman's Music club.

The program opened with the Women's chorus singing the following Christmas carols: "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," "The Little Lord Jesus" and "Holy Night." Mrs. Reed Marshall accompanied on the organ. She is an organist of great ability.

The second number, "Joseph Tender, Joseph Mine," a 14th century song was beautifully sung by Mrs. Beatha Falk C'halan.

An organ overture of Von Flotow played by Mrs. Reed Marshall was a delightful number.

The fourth number was a cantata, "The Christ Child" by Paul Bells, with reading from the Bible by Mrs. J. K. Bannister, Mrs. Fred Gooding, Mrs. R. Woods, Mrs. J. Allen Grubbs and Fred Calvert took the solos and quartette wokt most effectively.

The closing numbers were organ selections "Kanzonetta" by Dubois and "Toccata" by Dubois, played by Miss Geraldine Evans. Miss Evans is a recent addition to the club. Both of her numbers were most difficult and were splendidly played. She is at present organist for the Van Wert Presbyterian church.

Miss Maxine Hoover, of E. Waynesburg, was surprised by a number of her little school mates when they gathered at her home Thursday in celebration of her seventh birthday anniversary. Games and music were the diversions and a dainty luncheon was served.

Flavor Should be Distinctive, Says Noted Expert on Cooking—How to Obtain this Desirable Effect

Let the vegetables that accompany turkey, duck or goose for the Christmas dinner be distinctive in flavor. Onions, turnips, squash, cabbage, parsnips, Brussels sprouts or cauliflower—any of these are well chosen. Green peas are sometimes served with duck but are a decided luxury in December.

If the flavor of the stuffing is definitely onion, squash should be the vegetable. Do not repeat flavors. It makes a meal monotonous and uninteresting.

The salad should be a simple green salad served with French dressing.

Mashed squash, creamed onions, buttered turnips or parsnips are quite as acceptable as a more elaborately served vegetable. But if you would "paint the lily" here are some means of doing it that will not necessitate a lot of fussing at the last minute:

ONIONS AU GRATIN.

Twelve medium sized onions, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-1/2 cups water, salt and pepper, bread crumbs, grated cheese.

Peel onions and let stand in cold salted water half an hour. Cut into quarter-inch slices. Parboil five minutes in water to cover. Drain and pour over cold water. Drain. Put in a well-buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour over the sauce made my melting the butter, stirring in the flour and gradually adding the water, stirring constantly.

Bake in a moderate oven half an hour. Then cover with bits of butter and sprinkle with grated cheese.

Return to oven half an hour. Increase heat the last 10 minutes to broil.

TurnIP CROQUETTES.

Eight parsnips, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1-1/2 cup cracker crumbs, 1 egg.

Wash and boil parsnips till tender. Plunge into cold water and slip skins. Mash and add cracker crumbs, melted butter, sugar, salt and pepper.

Mix thoroughly and add egg well beaten. Shape in little flat cakes, roll in flour and fry in a spider to a golden brown. Use salt butter and half hard for frying and as half hard for keeping.

Dear Miss Smart:

WIFE and I were very happy.

My salary was fairly large and I was able to provide for her properly and give her everything she wanted. Her parents are old and we live on a small income.

She is the daughter of an old friend of the family who had money.

Use all the strength you have to bring up your wife as well as with her parents. If you are a real man with principles which are above reproach, you will win. You should be willing to make many sacrifices and concessions rather than to permit this separation to become permanent.

Instead of getting into your future in the hands of the law, try to do everything to bring about a reconciliation with your wife.

If you are a real man with principles which are above reproach, you will win.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT EUGENE BOHAM

SWEET STRANGER

BY BERTHA RUCK

(Hotel Vanderbilt, New York City.)
The incredible has happened. She's vanished, that admirable Miss Vaughan—that-was, who only existed for her duties and her twin brother; that little, dull, domesticated, shabby-blue-serge-clad British spinster type.

Behind in her place this incredibly gay young Mrs. Morris—that-is! A sultry, honey-luminous, oblivious of everything save this seven-days' Elysium.

I have forgotten—can you believe it!—forgotten all about Jim! Never thought of him until this very evening, when my Slim Pilot and I were out at dinner together. My husband's face and voice became all concern.

He'd seen the change in my own face. "Why, Dilys, what's up?"

"What's the matter?" Jim! I gasped.

Startled, my pilot glanced about the dining room.

"Jim!" he echoed. "Where?"

"Oh, not here, my dear. In Vermon't. Doesn't know we're here! Oh, d'you realize that he doesn't know anything at all that's happened since that evening when I just blew into his room, snatched some money, and told him that I was off to stay in New York for three days with Miss Crane!"

"Good Lord, but didn't you—"

"No! No! I didn't write or wire or send a word! And I've never even thought of it!"

"Are you sure, now, that Miss Crane hasn't written and told me all about you?"

"Not she. She had to tear off back to Chicago the minute she'd seen us married and off her hands! She's plenty of things to do besides writing to tell people's brothers that their sisters have gone and got married to any colonials at a second's notice! And, of course, she imagined I'd wired to the camp. Of course she thought I should be writing reams to Jim, like I always do every day when I'm away from him!"

"No human soul writes to any other human soul when it's on a honeymoon, Dilys. Not on a honeymoon that's worth its name."

"I'm not listening to you. I'm upset. For now I can't write. I'll have to tell Jim—get back to him at once!"

"You'll finish your very excellent brother first, dearest. You see, we can't start tonight."

"The first thing in the morning," I decided remorsefully.

(Fernont, later.)

It, during those days of honey-mony, I forgot all thought of my duty to Jim, at least I made up for it by thinking of him, and of him alone, during the whole of the long journey back to the hills. In my mind I went over and over what I was going to say to my brother, and how I should best break it to him that I, who'd left the Camp as the peak and spinster Miss Agnes Vaughan, had returned to them as Mrs. Stephen Gabriel Morris, the bride of the composer of Sweet Stranger, and other about-to-be-popular songs.

I'd go into Jim's room alone. Of course, he was well on the way to recovery, but I expected that he would have packed off to bed early. Well, I'd go in, and I'd blurt it out at once...

At last, the car rattled us up and down the roads to the Camp village. It looked deserted, the elm-bordered village street, from which all the other Campites had now departed.

The car pulled up at that old-fashioned white house, seeming to draw back behind the trees that shaded it.

"Topping place," said my young husband, sniffling appreciatively at the pure air.

"You wait outside," I begged him. The front door stood wide open. And in I went, prepared for my so often rehearsed confession to Jim. I went straight to his door, tapped thrice without any answer. And then—then I went in.

No Jim. The room empty. The bed stripped. Not one of Jim's belongings about; nothing to remind one that he'd ever been there.

I thought, "Ah! He's gone back to his first room—mine." Here, too, no sign of Jim. I opened the cupboard and drawers. Nothing of Jim's. I fled toward the back rooms, and here encountered our kindly landlady.

"Well, Miss Vaughan!" she exclaimed. "We didn't know when we were going to see you again. Your telegram to your brother came this morning—I sent it on to him."

"On? Isn't he here?"

"Why, no; he's been gone three days now."

"Where on earth's he gone now?"

"He left, in a mighty hurry, for Chicago."

I stood there gasping in the passage. "Chicago! What's he gone there for?"

"I could not tell you, honey," said the mistress of the house, her comely face beaming. "But don't you worry about Captain Vaughan. He looked fine. Miss Tarbell, she's been looking after him like an angel."

"Ah!" I said, with relief. "Where shall I find Miss Tarbell?"

"Heaven above," I said blankly. I'd just remembered that, of course, she was a Chicago girl.

"And the message Captain Vaughan left for you, Miss Vaughan, was, would you please come along as soon as possible after him? To the Whiststone Hotel, Chicago."

At first the Slim Pilot began murmuring things about not seeing why we should have to streak off to Chicago when we had this fine chance of prolonging our honeymoon in the Big Outdoors. As for Jim, wouldn't a wire to Chicago fix it for the next few days? Or a long-distance-call? No, a wire was best.

"Please put 'Arriving Chicago Saturday.' Sign 'Mouse.' Then we'll tell him ourselves. Yes, on Saturday. Darling Pilot-boy, we must. Poor, poor Jim! Think of him! When I'm so happy and all," I coaxed.

Late that evening, in the setting of that waning moon that had been mounting to the full on the night that I had last walked in this place, I took him with me towards the lake down that bit of white road. There, at a gap in the hedge, I stopped.

"You walk on," said I, with a little push, "until I call you to stop."

Wondering a little, he did as I asked him. When he was nine paces away from me I called, "Now walk back to me here."

Bareheaded, the moon shining down on his slim gray figure, my Pilot swung along the road towards me, smiling as he came. No wraith, he came up to me now, and real, he took me in his arms.

"Tell me, when you were walking over there just now, did you—did you think you'd ever seen this place before?"

He told me with his little laugh: "I didn't see anything but you."

So when he asked me, "Why, Dilys, did you bring me out here?" I told him no more than "Because last time I was here, I happened to be thinking about you."

The day after, we set out for Chicago.

IRISH SPLIT MAY KILL PEACE PLAN

Outcome of Situation Now Impossible to Predict

DEVALERA'S BACKING STRONG

Treaty, However, Expected to Finally Win Out

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — The repudiation by Eamon De Valera of the agreement reached between the British and Irish plenipotentiaries for the establishment of the Irish free state and the resultant split in the Dail Eireann cabinet overshadowed all other developments in the Irish situation today.

The receipt of this news immediately raised two questions, "what will be the outcome of the division among the Irish leaders as affecting the decision of the Dail Eireann upon the agreement?"

"What effect will the situation in south Ireland have upon the British government's attitude and the opening of the imperial parliament for consideration of the agreement?"

PARLIAMENT PLANS

The best opinion is that the split among the Dail leaders will not affect the plans for the opening of parliament.

The agreement was made between the British government and plenipotentiaries representing the Dail Eireann and it was placed before the house of commons and the house of lords in the king's speech.

Then after Prime Minister Lloyd George in the lower house and Lord

Birkenhead in the upper chamber have explained and supported the agreement, a brief adjournment will be taken to await the vote of the Dail Eireann which meets the same day — next Wednesday.

The sessions of the Dail are considered here as likely to be protracted and lively for it is composed of young men with strong views which they are in the habit of expressing with force.

In his statement last night declaring himself against the terms, Eamon De Valera, republican leader, disclosed that his attitude was supported by two members of his cabinet, Austin Stack and Charles Burgess. The other cabinet members are said to have remained firm in favor of the treaty. This split, with the odds favoring ratification, is pointed to here as significant of the possible hue in the Dail Eireann itself when the time for action arrives.

POSSIBLE OUTCOME

The outcome seems at this distance impossible to predict. Altho there were reports before the signing of the truce last summer that differences of opinion existed between Mr. De Valera and some of his chief supporters, such as Arthur Griffith, no such differences if there were any, have ever been expressed in public and opinion on how the rank and file voted is, for the most part, mere guess work.

Mr. De Valera, however, will have strong supporters for the rejection of the agreement and for the demand for an Irish republic from Austin Stack, Charles Burgess, Desmond Fitzgerald, Liam Mellows, Countess Markievicz and all the out-and-out republicans, it is believed. Government circles in London, however, remain convinced that Griffith, Michael Collins and their supporters will win the day, as it is felt that the moderates will follow this group.

The split in the Dail cabinet will not interfere in the release of the prisoners in the Irish internment camps and other places of confinement to whom amnesty was extended by the king's procl.

mation, according to the Irish office. Those from the Ballykiner camp will be given their liberty today and others of the interned men will likewise be set free immediately. It is pointed out here that many of these men are classed as extremists but the cordial reception which the first of those released gave to the agreement has caused hope in the official world that the released men for the most part will prove supporters of Collins and Griffith.

DUBLIN SURPRISED

DUBLIN — (By Associated Press) — The extent to which Dublin was surprised by Eamon De Valera's statement of last night in opposition to the terms of the Irish agreement cannot easily be exaggerated. Altho his sentiments were generally known, it was not believed he would openly differ at the last moment with the decisions of the Sinn Fein's accredited plenipotentiaries.

In political quarters here the general feeling today seemed to be that the Dail Eireann at its meeting next Wednesday would support Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, who stood by their signatures of the agreement against all the arguments of the opposition, and it is stated that if plenipotentiaries were again needed in London the same men would go again.

New Canadian Premier is Cousin of Mackenzies

A sweeping victory by the Liberal Party in the Canadian elections which carries into office William Lyon Mackenzie King as Premier. His audited interest in Lima, for the reason that the Premier-elect is a first cousin of W. L. Mackenzie, 27 S. Collet-st. and is well-known in Lima.

The above named are grandchildren of the Scots-Canadian Liberal leader, William Lyon Mackenzie, who headed the Canadian rebellion, an outstanding feature of the history of that country.

Election of King in the success of the Liberals and the defeat of the MacKenzie government which has been in control, is gratifying to the members of the MacKenzie family here. The name of MacKenzie has long been associated with the development of the British territory to the north of the United States.

MISS FRANCES NEWMAN,

"Only a medicine of truly wonderful merit could have done what Tanlac did for me and, there is nothing half good enough for me to say about it," said Miss Frances Newman, 2829 Hirsch St., Chicago: "I don't think anybody ever suffered any more from indigestion than I did and for over a year I was in wretched health. I had smothering spells and my heart palpitated so violently I thought I had heart trouble, but I know it was all caused from my stomach.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel and look like a different person. I have a splendid appetite and my digestion is just perfect. I sleep eight or nine hours every night and get up in the morning feeling fresh and happy. My friends tell me I'm always smiling now and I certainly ought to be, for I'm enjoying life again."

ELECTRIC SWEEPER-VAC

with Motor Driven Brush

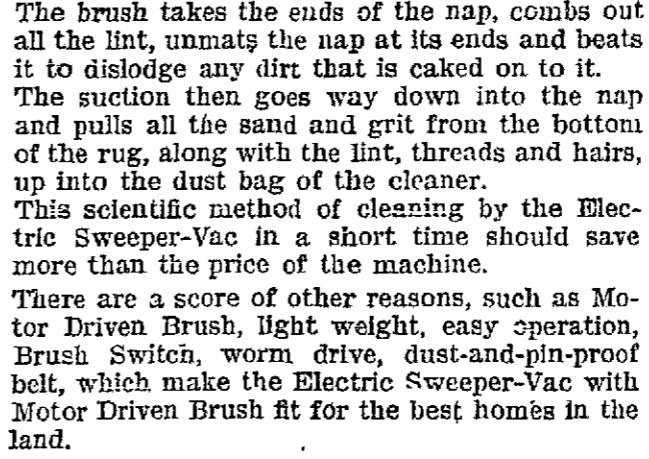

LET US SEE WHY

Good rugs are backed with glue-sizing to keep them from wrinkling or buckling on the floor and to fasten the nap. Scientific cleaning avoids cracking off this glue-sizing through picking up the rug or beating it over a clothes line.

How the SWEEPER-VAC Way

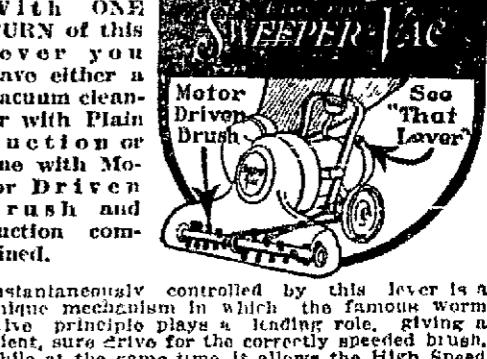

differs from all other vacuum cleaners.

The nozzle of the Sweeper-Vac always rests flat on the rug. Restraining fingers cross the nozzle opening, keeping the nap from going up more than one-sixteenth of an inch into the nozzle.

Just Turn the Lever

OFF —————— ON

Instantaneously controlled by this lever is a unique mechanism in which the famous worm drive principle plays a leading role, giving a silent, sure drive for the correctly speeded brush, while at the same time, it allows the High Speed Motor necessary for the most powerful suction. It is a vacuum cleaner which is entirely dust and-pollution proof, freedom from adjustment and many other useful features.

WHAT ALLIANCE IS MADE?

Controversy Causing Outsiders Considerable Speculation Now

(By Frank H. Simonds)
WASHINGTON — (Special)
There is an alliance not an alliance

What is it Quadruple Entente?

If you will take this question slowly and answer it rapidly you willapproximately arrive at the situation as Washington is saying it to be. But saying to be sure, is notWhat is most disturbing about the present situation is not that there is any general belief that Mr. Hughes, with Mr. Hardinge concluded has come to some new form of an oldbut that for the first time the opportunity for others to speak for what has arrived and been seized

Sometime last week some kind of mutual bargain or agreement or proposal was passed upon in someway by those whom we, following the not wholly unhappy precedents of Paris call the "Big Three."As to the existence of this statement there is general agreement
now, since that time this experiment, that this trial balloon, this scrappaper, the term does not signify, taken on very definite and tangible shape in the general discussions outside of the conference.

AGREEMENT IS SECRET

One may say, with a degree of shyness which, as the currentnews has it, "one is not permitted to decide," that this agreement isin what London and Tokio affirm, what natives of London andTokio, sojourning in Washington state, that it is not an alliance, nota commitment, above all that it is an "entangling alliance." Whatis not possible to say now on any American authority is, exactly or approximately what the thing is.In other words, and it seems to be the fact is all important, American diplomacy, which before thedifference, while conceding that it did not properly undertake to discuss the positions of foreign governments in the session, assertedthat it could and would keep the American people in touch with theAmerican policy and purpose, has recently renounced this course and Mr. Hughes has adopted in the course which Mr.

Hughes followed with such fatality

The result has been simple. We

we had American policy interested in precisely the terms which would best satisfy certain European and would be most calculated to arouse American protestand above all to awaken protest on the part of the United States.

No thoughtful person

here that there has been understanding any new treaty of alliance,

as everyone has now to confront state and specific statements that the United States, in return for

the acceptance of the naval agreement, join with Japan, Britain andFrance in guaranteeing certain things, such as the integrity of Asia, liberally interpreted, to be granted.

Now, accepting the fact that there has been an agreement of some sort, it is still totally outside the own purposes of the President and the Secretary of State that any

agreement should commit the

the recognition of the rights of others and the promise to respect

those rights plus the pledge to play a role in the matter of naval reserves and, in the matter of Pacific Island fortifications to observe neutrality without end.

Your powers, the United States,

Great Britain, Japan and France

and each affirm such a purpose, and Congress of the United States will be expected to assent to such proclamation of policy, but the something quite different from a promise to join in a Quadruple Entente which might replace the existing Anglo-Japanese Alliance and abrogate the regulation of the battle or the defense of China.

It is possible for the United States to keep the pledge, but it is both improbable and unlikely that the United States should undertake to enforce prohibition, political not otherwise, it is understood, beyond its own territory.

It is conceivable, as is strenuously insisted upon, that one detail in the agreement, Article III, some aspects of which are extremely explicit,states that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, no longer having a reason forexistence in view of the new arrangement, automatically and by common consent disappears. Everyone knows that the Washington

conference will be regarded in this way as having fallen short of

complete success if the Alliance

does not disappear, but what is distressing is the suggestion that this appearance is paid for in Arti-

CLEVELAND IS DEPIRORED

And all else, what seems to me

the really disturbing fact in the existing situation is that the Conference has relapsed into such a profound secrecy and has hidden itself

such impenetrable mystery that it is at least an excuse for the creation of rumors and reports

which tend very gravely to discredit

the whole affair by rousing prejudice and exciting popular distrust.

But, for the first time since the conference opened there is a very real feeling in American quarters that what happened in Paris is occurring again in Washington, that the only available explanations of American policywhich at all satisfy even the surface necessities must be sought and can be found only outside of American policy.

And this is precisely the thing which, before the Conference met was promised should not happen.

We all know within fairly accurate limits what was and is British policy. Japan conceals her hand, butshe does not actually hide her objectives. France has no concealed purpose, and Italy would explain to anyone what was in her mind, if everyone was not so busy. But the silence which enveloped American policy at Paris has settled over

American policy in Washington and for better or for worse, there is no

Colonel House to volunteer explanations which, if they did not explain in Paris, at least obliged.

FINAL FIGURES IN RED CROSS DRIVE INCOMPLETEComplete figures on the Red Cross Roll Call drive had not been compiled Friday and indications are that no report will be made until early next week.

Tabulations from Allen-co show Lufkin secured 210 new memberships and Delphos 60. No personal solicitation was made in either place.

Spencerville workers were still continuing figures on the outcome of the campaign there, Friday.

Indications in Lima are that the Roll Call has been more successful than expected. More contributing members have been numbered this year than in several years past, it is declared.

VACANT FLATS; HOUSES
INCREASE IN NUMBER

Advertisements of houses, flats and apartments for rent, in the classified section of The Lima News

tell the story of reduction of rents and the increase of available vacant rooms in the past 12 months.

More houses and flats are being advertised for rent today than was the case one year ago, it was stated by realtors Friday. Investigation shows that rentals are slightly lower on desirable property and considerably lower on property not modern or well improved. New property in exclusive residential sections is still held at high rentals in some instances.Rooms and small apartments have decreased in price and increased in number, due to the industrial situation. Housekeeping rooms which commanded a price of $8 to $10 weekly a year ago can be had for $5 to $6 now. Rooms several blocks out, are renting for less money than those adjacent to the business section.

Michigan Has Poor Outlook For Basketball

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Prospects for a championship basketball team at the University of Michigan are not the brightest this year, due to loss of at least two of the best players from last year's squad, according to E. J. Mather, coach of the squad.

TWO STARS GONE
Captain Joe Karpus, forward, and Jack Williams, a guard, two of the stars of last year's five, graduated last spring. "Duke" Dunn, captain of the football team and center of the basketball team aggregation for the last two years, does not intend to be a candidate again this year because of the pressure of his University work.

Preliminary practice is under way and 45 men already have responded. From the squad Mather hopes to round out a team that will make a creditable showing in "Big Ten" circles.

LUCK UPON IOWA
Leading the field of candidates this year are Captain Bud Bea running guard of last year's combination, whose long shots from the center of the floor upset several conference teams. Miller, one of the best forwards of the "Big Ten," Whitlock, substitute forward last year; Lettale, guard, and Reason, center.

From the freshman squad come a number of good men. It is probable that Ely, former star on the Hillsdale, Mich., College five, and MacWood, will be strong rivals for Dunn's place.

'Pro' Grid Games Seem To Be On Verge Of Death

The popularity of professional football seems to be on the wane.

A year or two ago it looked as if the professional game was sure to go big. A reaction, however, has set in, which makes it seem that the public has soured on the professional grid game.

INTEREST DIES OUT

In Cleveland, where the game went big for a time, interest seems to have died out to a great extent. In fact the crowds dropped off so suddenly that the Cleveland management found it far more profitable to take games away from home on a straight guarantee, than to gamble with the weather and the enthusiasm of the fans.

It is beginning to look as if football was truly the school and college game. Spirit is what makes the game so attractive from the college standpoint. That spirit is entirely lacking in the professional games. This despite the fact that practically all the leading pro teams are composed almost entirely of former college stars, many of them All-American selections.

FORGET SPIRIT
A number of the former stars who have turned "pro" seem to have forgotten all about the old college spirit. Instead of playing to the limit of their endurance, they save themselves at every opportunity, and take few if any chances. It is only natural that any sport in which there is a decided lack of effort and interest by those taking part should sooner or later suffer as a result. That tells the story of professional football!

WANT TO BE A BOXING CHAMPION? HERE'S RECIPE OF DUNN

BY JIMMY DUNN

Famous Manager of Noted Boxers

(In an Interview With Billy Evans)

HALTH, courage, brains and good habits are the four essentials in developing a champion boxer. The greatest of the four is good habits.

In developing a boxer, I much prefer the boy who has never received any previous instruction.

I like them in the rough. It enables me to form a much quicker and better opinion of their chance to make good.

A most important asset of any boxer is a

After a period of instruction in learning to develop a straight left jab, I take up the matter of balance.

In the boxing game, balance means that the boxer is never out of position, always ready to take advantage of the slightest slip on the part of his opponent.

Often a fighter develops a good left and right hand, but lacks the brains to make the greatest use of his power. There is where the fellow with brains has the advantage. A manager can instruct his boxers in the art, but he cannot think for them in the ring.

FOUR LIMA TEAMS PLAY TONIGHT

Four Lima basketball teams are scheduled for games tonight. South Hill will play St. Marys HI in Lima, St. Rose HI's quintet will journey to New Bremen and the Lima Mikadoes go to St. Marys to play the Independents there.

M'Graw Says He Will Have Best Major Infield

NEW YORK — John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, expressed the belief today that Heine Grob, his $100,000 infield acquisition would make the team's infield the greatest he has ever managed.

BAKER IS CONCERNED

Bob Baker, the former star of the Lima White Stars and now athletic monitor at St. Rose, expects to take New Bremen into camp tonight without any difficulty, providing his team keeps up with the pace set in their three games already played.

The Mikadoes are in reality the Lima Locomotives team of the Y. M. C. A. Industrial league and the team is managed by Frank McCallum. They have not been defeated this season and included in the line-up are such professionals as Baker, the star center on last year's American Legion team and Thomas his running mate.

St. Rose HI will play their hardest game of the season a week from tonight at Ft. Wayne when they stack up against Cathedral HI.

Centre Pleased To Play Rockne Squad Dec. 26th

DANVILLE, Ky. — Announcement that Centre College Colonels will meet the Notre Dame eleven at San Diego, Calif., December 26, was enthusiastically received here today by members of the team and students.

The 22 letter men, Coaches Moran, Myers and Thorndill and representatives of the faculty will leave here December 6 for the far west. They are scheduled to arrive in San Diego at 6 a. m., December 23 and will remain there one week.

The first team is scheduled to play the second in a benefit game here today.

College Teams Handicapped By Poor Schedules

Just so long as college football schedules are arranged in a haphazard fashion, the annual fall tangle as to who is really the champion will continue.

Only the defeat of Ohio State by Illinois cleared up the situation in the Western Conference. A victory for State would have given that team grounds for claiming the title. On the other hand, Iowa had plenty of evidence to offer in behalf of its claim. Chicago incidentally further straightened out the situation by defeating Wisconsin.

OF THE WAY

The logical big games for Ohio State are Michigan, Chicago and Illinois. While we still have another year to go with our two-year contract with Minnesota, the great distance between the two universities makes the scheduling of games a great task for both elevens. The greatest objection on the part of both the Ohio and Minnesota faculty is that college work is seriously impaired because of the time required for the trips. It is the same with Iowa. A mere matter of distance has kept Iowa off our schedule.

MATTER OF DISTANCE

"That alone kept us from talking business with Iowa for this year. The location of Ohio State at one extreme of the Conference teams makes it a tough job to arrange games with teams at the other extreme, and satisfy all conditions. Inasmuch as coaches and directors arrange schedules to best suit their own conditions, tangles will always arise, when two or more teams in the Conference have clean records."

PRAISE

BARTHELEMESS SIMPLE SWAIN IN FIRST PICTURE

THE most interesting thing about Richard Barthelme's first starring picture is that he didn't pomade his hair, parade in full dress and smash a few hearts.

Barthelme's knows how to wear "soup and fish." His manners are courtly. Thus one would expect that his first starring picture would present him as a social lion, leaving a trail of broken hearts as he swept on from conquest to conquest.

But no, "Tolable David," by Joseph Herzenhein, was chosen as the vehicle. That is a simple story of simple folk of the Virginia West Virginia mountains.

David was ready to assume a man's place in the world. He wants the responsibility and recognition unknown to them.

Here's Wally Again—Fit as Ever

As the title, "The Hell Diggers," would indicate, the picture is a very obstreperous one. It is a picture in which nearly everyone, figuratively speaking, hops up and demands to be heard.

The so-called "hell-diggers" are a company who, with huge dredges, seek gold at the expense of the beautiful farming country. The horrible machines plough their way thru the land, leaving a path that is arid and dry.

But finally the farmers rise up and refuse to sell the company any more of their land.

Where does Wallace Reid come in? Well, in many, many places. First we see him as the manager for the company. However he loves the daughter of one of the seething farmers, so he gets busy and invents a machine which will resoil while it explores.

Young Freddy is an honest chap, and when one of the bosses suggests a plan whereby they can put something over on the unsuspecting farmers, he resigns and goes over to the other faction. They raise money to build one of the dredges. The crooked member of the gold company blows it up.

Follows, of course, a lot of various kinds of excitement, but the finale sees peace and happiness and the amalgamation of the farmers' company and the gold concern. "The Hell Diggers" is well staged, acted and directed. Both Mr. Reid and Miss Lois Wilson, the leading lady, give a splendid performance. That, of course, is to be expected.

"The Hell Digger" is appearing again today and Saturday at the Faurot Opera House.

You Like Mr. Tearle? See "The Fighter"

HERE'S a picture that gives the screen's most famous caveman a role that is quite different from anything he has yet undertaken. You see, ever since the Selznick organization made a star out of him, he hasn't been having the very best vehicles for some reason or other. In "The Fighter" he portrays the part of a man, who, against overwhelming odds, beats the other fellow to it and becomes famous.

"The Fighter" was written by Albert Payson Terhune, which inures its popularity. It lays out the story of a man, who from boyhood had been forced to fight and fight to get ahead in the world. But he finally attained the position of president of the road on which he was once an engineer. Contending factors, so-called aristocratic gentlemen, concoct a scheme to get Caleb Conover from his pinnacle of fame. They will begin by busting him from their club. But Caleb, remember, is a fighter, and what he tells that clan of self-righteous humbugs is a plenty. He does NOT leave the club.

And then there's a girl, Miss Winifred Westover is her name, and she's a young, smiling, dimpling ingenue whose evident helplessness is all contrasted against the sturdy Mr. Tearle. (She's the girl they say ole' Bill Hart married just the other day.)

It's hardly the thing to do to tell you all the story. You've enough of it now to have an idea of the kind of story "The Fighter" is. It's virile and red-blooded and if you have ever had the slightest liking for Conway Tearle, you'll enjoy this film immensely.

At the Lyric today and Saturday.

Double Program at the Sigma

THE Sigma's bill today offers the feature picture "Little Italy" and starring Miss Alice Brady. Is one of the best releases Miss Brady and a widely diversified nature.

has given us. It is so Italian you can almost smell the garlic. Not in the land of sun and gondolas and vineyards is the action laid, but in Little Italy that haven in New York where the immigrant finds a place to colonize and carry on his old world customs and styles.

The story is too lengthy to be here inscribed, but be assured that it furnishes heart interest a plenty. Miss Brady is charming as Rosa and she's a young, smiling, dimpling ingenue whose evident helplessness is all contrasted against the sturdy Mr. Tearle. It's the one thing to take an active part in a great war, and it's an other thing to sit on the side lines and see it. It's one thing to be weighted down with a pack, grenades, rifle and ammunition — to be pressed for ward thru muck and slime, sometimes waist deep, and it's another thing to sit in a comfortable theatre chair and watch some other fellow do it.

"These are some of the impressions I gained after witnessing the U. S. Government's Official War Films "Flashes of Action."

"The pictures took me back to the early days of the war. The embarkation scenes were very good and the views on the transport and destroyers were vivid reminders of the hazardous trip across.

"A scene that impressed me particularly was where elements of the 77th Division were seen advancing in the Argonne. Two men were noticed going to the rear. (Why they should be going to the rear, I don't know—unless they were medical corps men) suddenly, these men stopped. They heard that rushing whistling shell coming at them. They apparently were dazed for a second. Realizing the close proximity of the shell, they drop to the ground—but too late.

"The scenes of the artillery in action are so realistic one feels one can hear the roar of the guns and those pictures of the barrage at night intermingled by airplane signal.

Roy Bowersock, the "Old Cap Collier" of Allen-co protective forces, was left at home to wash dishes while his wife went to the movies. "I didn't have much luck," he reports. "I think it was because I put buckwheat flour in the water by mistake for washing powder."

Bob Mitchell, flattest student at Central Hi, awoke in the middle of the night recently, thinking he heard phonograph music. "It wasn't that," he says, "my cot bed turned over with me and pitched me out on my nose."

Al Stolzenbach of insurance fame bought a brand new derby a few days ago. That night he reported the new sky-places to church. On the way home he stopped at the Williams & Davis mortuary. There friends began to "pan" the new lid. Next day he exchanged it for a different shape. Haberdasher who sold the hat has refused further exchanges and sent a note of warning to all critics.

Jimmy Howell, printer, formerly of Waynesfield, started to learn to play a saxophone in his flat. Neighbors complained. The landlord said he must quit playing or move. "But they say one who gets a taste for saxophone playing can't quit," reports a friend of Howell. "He moved."

DURBIN AND BURKHARDT IN WRANGLE

Civil Service Commissioner Continues Probe on Question List

Attorney May Ask Chief Executive to Take Hand

Investigation of the origin of a list of questions and answers similar to those which have been used in the past in civil service examinations for the police department found in the office of the chief of police, was conducted Friday by Francis W. Durbin, member of the commission.

Durbin announced his intention of going to the bottom of the affair and learning if the questions were handed out for the purpose of allowing any particular candidate to "buck up" and pass with a perfect grade.

The questions on the list found at the police station were pronounced by Durbin to be identical with those given in examinations. The list was discovered in a desk used by Captain Norton F. Dawson, during his brief tenure as police head.

LIGHT ON INCIDENT

Dawson was testifying before the grand jury Friday, as was Fred W. Zeits, the only member of the commission who has not positively denied handing the list out.

The list according to Dawson, was written out by Sergeant George Strick and dictated by Attorney W. W. Sutton.

It was written, he stated, for the benefit of a number of officers on the force who were to be examined for sergeant during the summer.

Sutton admitted Friday that he had given out a list of general questions and answers, for some of the officers to study. He could not state positively whether it is the list found at the station.

"I was asked to give them some information and answers," explained Sutton. "Just common knowledge about courts, and law. One question was what is a warrant; another what is an affidavit."

DURBIN-BURKHARDT CLASH

Tension between Mayor Burkhardt and Commissioner Durbin developed late Thursday when the city executive called Durbin on the telephone and demanded to know if he was present at the police station as a member of the civil service commission.

Durbin is said to have told Mayor Burkhardt that he would visit the station whenever he so desires.

I am protecting the city's interests, the mayor is said to have told the commissioner.

Later in the day Burkhardt is alleged to have sought to learn from other sources who had been present at toll call Wednesday, and if Durbin visited headquarters with Chief Rous.

The arguments between the two became spirited, when Burkhardt sought to learn of Durbin had been at the station, as an official or on private business. Durbin said,

"Are you trying to interrogate me?" Durbin demanded.

The mayor is also said to have sought to learn if Durbin was acting as counsel for Rous.

Durbin endeavored to get an interview with Mayor Burkhardt Friday, with the intention, he said, of learning if he is required to ask Burkhardt's permission to visit the station.

OTHERS VISIT STATION

He also announced his intention of calling attention of Mayor Burkhardt to alleged visits to the police station by other members of the commission.

"If my visits to headquarters warrant investigation," he said, "I want him to interrogate other members as to their business there."

Mayor Burkhardt explained his object in questioning Durbin was plain. "If there as member of the commission he would be asked for an explanation," the chief executive said.

Durbin said he went to the station to consult Willis Kipker, a client.

"I was there as an attorney and citizen," he declared. "It's nobody's affair when I go to the police station or who I see there."

Durbin called on Burkhardt prior to noon, and in a conference the matter was adjusted to the satisfaction of both men.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU IS PLANNED

Efforts of the Lima Merchants' association to create a Better Business Bureau to work in conjunction with the present system, are nearing maturity, according to information Friday.

Representatives of the Ft. Wayne Better Business Bureau will come to Lima Thursday evening for a general discussion with the Lima Merchants' association board of directors, to outline the plan in vogue in the Indiana city. Several members of the Better Business association at Columbus are expected to attend the meeting.

The conference is expected to develop some stable plan whereby the Lima Merchants' association will incorporate the principles of truthful advertising and the first step toward organization of a Better Business Bureau in Lima, it was stated Thursday.

KERSHAW NOT MURDERED ON ORDER FROM DOPE RING

SHE WEDS TWICE IN ONE MONTH!

MRS. LESLIE A. LIND
CHICAGO—Married twice this same month!

But to the same husband!

That's the experience of Mrs. Leslie A. Lind, 20 social leader of Chicago's younger set.

"The second ceremony was prompted by conscience," says the double bride.

"You see, Leslie and I eloped and were married by a justice of the peace. That lacked solemnity.

"And anyhow I like the thrill of being a bride. So we decided to do it all over again only this time in a church."

"Marriages made to order," as Mrs. Lind styles the kind performed in law offices, are all the more starts in matrimony, she says.

But a church lends lasting respect for the union of both man and woman."

Electrocuted at Richmond, Va., For Murder of Wife

RICHMOND, Va. — (By Associated Press) Dr. Wilmer Amon Hadley, former army surgeon and ranchman, was put to death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary early today for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Sue Hadley, in November, 1918.

Prison attendants declare Hadley went to his death calmly and stoically.

Dr. Hadley made no statement before death further than to say he had made his peace with God and was prepared for the end.

SENSATIONAL CASE

The execution closed one of the most sensational murder cases in the criminal history of Richmond and recalled the case a few years ago of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., to which it was similar in many respects.

Mrs. Hadley's body was found in the James river near Richmond on December 30, 1918, by a negro tramp and was identified by the woman's sister several weeks later. A search for Dr. Hadley was begun by local authorities which carried them through many states and parts of Canada and he finally was apprehended on a ranch in New Mexico.

At the time of his arrest he was in disguise and under an assumed name. He was taken to Denver, Colorado, where, according to the Henrico county authorities, he made a written confession that he had killed his wife. This confession was used against him in his trial.

In the confession he declared he also shot a "mysterious Dr. Griffith," a fellow surgeon in the army, but an investigation proved this to be unfounded which Hadley finally admitted.

From the time of his arrest last August until his death today, Dr. Hadley maintained a taciturn calmness and indifference.

Fortification Question Before Conference For First Time

Far Eastern Committee Adjourns Till Tomorrow

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The rapidly moving arms conference had reached a point of comparative pause today, with the Far Eastern committee in adjournment until tomorrow and the next important step in the negotiations on naval ratio and the proposed four-power treaty apparently waiting on a definite statement of the attitude of the Japanese government. Meanwhile the Japanese and Chinese delegations held another session today of their separate conference on the Shantung question, discussion of the restoration to China of the public properties in the Japanese leasehold there having been continued yesterday without final disposition.

FORTIFICATION QUESTION

As a major feature in the prospective agreements the question of limitation of fortifications and naval bases in the Pacific islands has been brought into prominence for the first time today. Also the subject has not advanced to the stage of formal exchanges, the American delegates have given assurances to the Japanese that it would be considered as a natural corollary of the naval reduction plan and indications point to an ultimate agreement on the principle of abandoning further development of island defenses.

Press reports that the Japanese government had decided to accept the four-power treaty plan for preserving peace in the Pacific, conditionally on an agreement on the naval ratio and further application of the American "four-powers" to China, were accepted here as further embracing interdependence of the negotiations of those problems and as supporting the opinion that they would be advanced simultaneously to the point of a general understanding on all. Separate treaties and agreements then would remain to be drawn up to cover them.

RESPONSES AWAITED

Definite word was awaited from the French government today, as well as from Tokio as to acceptance of the principle of the proposed four-power treaty. An early favorable response from France was looked for in reply to the recommendation of its delegates that their government accept a place in the new arrangement. The British government is understood to have already accepted the proposal in principle and the American delegates have proceeded to the point of indicating a willingness to discuss details.

BANDIT CAPTURED

Policeman Foils Robbery of Bank At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — A man giving the name of William Rapp of this city, entered the First National Bank here this forenoon, walked up to the bank's private watchman, Harry Rusche, thrust a revolver against the policeman and said: "Hands Up! Open that cage," pointing to a compartment in which was stationed an assistant cashier. The watchman, instead of raising his hands, knocked the revolver from the robber's hand, then seized him. There was a short but fierce struggle that ended when one or two other employes of the bank reached the spot and assisted the watchman.

The police say that Rapp, after his arrest, confessed to having held up a Central-av grocery store yesterday, obtaining about $25.

Rapp, according to the police, said he was out of work and desperate.

WINTER NOW HERE; AWNINGS DISAPPEAR

Winter has officially arrived in Lima.

Each year the coming of the winter king may be determined by the removal of the awnings from the Amico court house. They are usually the last of summer to disappear.

William Feth, custodian of the county building, began the removal of the awnings Friday. Much cold weather may now be expected.

YOUNGSTOWN.—The jury in the case of Rodney Hostler, on trial for first degree murder in connection with the killing of Isadore Wozniak May 19, reported a disagreement today and was discharged. The jury had been out since yesterday afternoon. Corridor gossip said the jurors stood 8 to 4 for conviction.

BANDIT DISARMS GUARDS, ESCAPES FROM DEATH CELL

Makes Getaway After Two Gun Battles Outside

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (By United Press) — Tom Slaughter notorious bandit of the southwest staged one of the most daring and spectacular prison breaks in southwestern criminal history early today when he escaped from the death cell of the state penitentiary here.

Following his escape with six other convicts Slaughter engaged in a gun battle with officers at Benton and Lonsdale and after eluding capture is believed enroute to his old haunts in Texas and Oklahoma.

Slaughter spent five hours wandering around inside the prison walls before making his final dash to liberty.

WOMEN LOCKED UP

Feigning illness Slaughter summoned a guard and asked for a blanket. The guard opening the door and advancing to the bandit's cot was covered by a gun which friends had snuggled to the prisoner.

Slaughter disarmed the guard and forced him to lead the way to the warden's office where he "covered" three guards and forced them to lay down on the floor while he disarmed them.

Next he went to the hospital where he forced a nurse to lead him to the quarters of the wife and daughter of the warden. These women he locked in the death cell.

He then threw open the lock which secured the doors of the cells and told the convicts that all who wished to accompany him could do so. Six stated their desire to attempt the escape. The others refused.

The police say that Rapp, after his arrest, confessed to having held up a Central-av grocery store yesterday, obtaining about $25.

Rapp, according to the police, said he was out of work and desperate.

No one was injured in the spectacular escape.

Slaughter was under sentence of death for the murder of a trust at an Arkansas prison last September. The date of the execution was set for December 16, but an appeal was pending which would have gained for him a stay.

CONFEREES WILL UPROOT SNAGS

SURPASSES EXPECTATIONS

Declares President Harding's Optimism Justified

(By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN)

WASHINGTON—President Harding's optimism in regard to the results of the conferees is justified. He said in a recent address that the negotiations promised to "succeed beyond our fondest hopes."

The delegates can do nothing themselves. They speak for the government which they represent and the governments must act with caution because they speak for the people, and the people exercise an increasing influence over their government.

The conference is proceeding as fast as could be expected. It has already made unexpected progress, the results achieved are beyond the anticipations of the most sanguine. Everything has proceeded without a hitch.

Can't Settle All. The conference cannot settle all problems—some are not yet ripe for settlement, but the momentum is increasing and will in time overcome all obstacles. It is reported that the Japanese government agrees to the "four-power" understanding which seems likely to be substituted for the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

This agreement contemplates a period of discussion before war and that in itself is sufficient to greatly decrease the chances of international trouble in the Pacific.

Japan did not enter into a treaty with the United States for the investigation of all disputes before resort to war. She was one of the big nations that did not, but this was double's due to the dispute over the California land laws.

ALLIANCE MADE HARMLESS

In ratifying the Versailles treaty which contained the covenant of the League of Nations, Japan endorsed the 30-peace plan. Great Britain and France have endorsed the plan both in treaties with the United States and in the League of Nations.

The much-discussed Anglo-Japanese alliance was made harmless by the treaty between the United States and Great Britain signed on September 15, 1914, which gave a year's time for investigation before resort to war.

The agreement covering the islands in the Pacific will make it easier to establish a tribunal in which all the nations will join, providing machinery for the investigation of all disputes before the contracting nations can use violence. Is it not strange that nations so well supplied for machinery for war should have waited so long to provide machinery for peace?

Rev. J. J. Williams to Again be St. Rose Assistant

Rev. Father J. J. Williams, former assistant pastor at St. Rose Catholic church, has been ordered returned to this parish. He will arrive Saturday, prepared to assume his duties here.

The Rev. Father Williams has been for the past two months stationed at Van Wert, where he was pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church. Announcement of the return of Rev. Upon Monsignor Manning and the Rev. Father William A. Tobin, assistant, has devolved the duties of the large parish up to the re-appointment of Father Williams.

NEW SWINDLE PLAN FAILS AT ST. MARY'S

ST. MARY'S—A new plan adopted by forgers came near costing H. L. Lewis, landlady of the Hotel Fountain here, $312. Lewis was summoned to the telephone and was informed that the other party on the line was H. G. McClain, of the St. Paul Building & Trust company.

"I have a sum due here from Dr. Lewis who wishes to have a check cashed. Our vault is closed. Would you mind cashing it?" the supposed McClain asked.

Lewis gave assurance that he would be glad to do so. A little later a smooth looking stranger called at the hotel and presented a check for $312. Lewis did not know that amount of money he had, but was asked by the stranger if he could get it. It was then learned

When Lewis went to the phone and called for McClain the call disappeared. Later, McClain disclaimed knowledge of such an incident.

MAYOR, AUDITOR IN GRAND JURY QUIZ

Thirteen witnesses were called to testify before the Allen county grand jury Friday. Among this number were Morton F. Dawson, L. O. Sollars, city auditor, Mayor F. A. Burkhardt and Fred W. Zeits.

Eugene T. Lippincott, prosecuting attorney, said the work of the grand jury will continue thru Friday and may not be completed until Saturday.

These new officers will be installed at a meeting to be held on the first Wednesday in January.

RETURN FROM CONFERENCE. Rev. L. R. Mitchell, pastor of the Second Baptist church; Rev. William Moore, Lima, pastor of the Baptist church at Kenton, and Rev. Leroy McGee, pastor of the Fourth St. Baptist church, Lima, returned Friday from Cleveland, where they attended a conference of leaders of the colored church in the north, extending from California to Maine and as far as Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Kansas.

The conference is proceeding as fast as could be expected. It has already made unexpected progress, the results achieved are beyond the anticipations of the most sanguine. Everything has proceeded without a hitch.

VERDICT IS IRREGULAR, BEELER APPEAL CHARGE.

That the jury in the case of Allie Beeler, convicted of embezzlement of more than $3,000 of the school funds of Shawnee-tp., did not fully comprehend the case and that it brought in an irregular verdict, counsel for Beeler charges in a motion for a new trial, filed late Thursday.

Seven reasons are assigned in the motion why another trial should be given Beeler.

I want to know who owes the city of Youngstown. I want to know where the money is coming from to pay the bills. I want to know what stocks we have on hand, such as horse feed and supplies, gasoline in the tanks, stationery and ink and lead pencils, and so forth. I want to state the amount of cash in the bank.

"Now the above is what I want. The question is — how much am I going to get? Please advise me and return mail to this city what I may expect.

REALTY LOANS AT THE FRONT

DATA GIVEN AT CONVENTION

Association Presidents Open Meeting in New York

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Real estate mortgage loans have far outdistanced railroad securities as the leading investment held by life insurance companies, according to original statistics submitted to the 15th annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents here today.

Speaking on "A Decade of Life Insurance Investments," Asa S. Wing, president of the Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia, stated that the real estate mortgage loans of the life companies have doubled in ten years, increasing from $1,225,000,000 at the end of 1911 to $2,468,000,000 on October 31 of this year.

POLICY LOANS THIRD

Investments in railroad securities were $1,500,000 at the end of 1911 and against $1,793,000,000 at the end of 1920. Real estate mortgage loans form more than 32 per cent of the total assets of the companies now, while railroad securities, which formed more than 35 per cent 10 years ago, have dropped to 26 per cent. Policy loans of $820,000,000 rank third, and United States government bonds of $772,000,000 are a close fourth, being 11.30 per cent of the assets. Other investments include state, county and municipal bonds and real estate. The total assets of the companies are in excess of $7,100,000,000.

Referring to the huge increase in real estate mortgage loans, President Wing said much of it had gone to the farmers, but that there is now a discernible trend toward the city again to meet housing requirements. On this point he said: "In order that this convention might have the latest data as to the trend of life insurance investments in mortgage loans, 47 companies holding more than 1 per cent of the assets of American companies have just made reports showing the total amount of their farm and city mortgages as of October 31, 1921. I find that $261,900,000 has been added in these months from December 31, 1920, to October 31, 1921, making a total of $2,468,600,000 real estate mortgage loans on October 31 of this year. Of this total, $1,247,300,000 is on farm property and $1,221,100,000 on city property. Therefore, for the first time in many years, if not for the first time in the history of the country, the total amount of farm loans held by life insurance companies now exceeds the loans on city property, the proportion being 50.53 per cent loans on farms as against 49.47 per cent on city property. On the increase of $261,900,000 in mortgage loans during the first ten months of this year, $161,300,000 is in farm mortgages and $100,600,000 in city mortgages. The increase in farm mortgages is greater in amount than the increase in the city mortgages during these ten months, as was the case in 1920. I find there is still the same tendency that I previously pointed out, namely, to increase the proportion of loans on city property as compared with farms.

This trend of investment toward the city has been strongly manifested since 1919 and can be shown most clearly by the proportion of new money now going into each class of mortgages during the last few years.

Please note, during 1918 and 1919, that 91.02 per cent of all the net increase in loans was on farm property and 8.97 per cent on city property. In 1920, the proportion of money invested in farm loans dropped 62.78 per cent, while the city loans increased to 36.22 per cent.

"During the first ten months of 1921, the same tendency has continued and the proportion of farm loans has dropped to 61.59 per cent while that on city property has increased to 28.41 per cent. With justifiable pride, speaking at an insurance gathering, I can point to the investment of life insurance funds where the greatest need of the nation has called. During the last six years it was vital for this nation, for itself and the part it was playing, that our agriculture should be stimulated to highest productivity. That the companies met this condition is shown in the percentage of agricultural loans. There is at the moment another imperative demand—that of construction catching up with deferred building in our cities. The national tendency of insurance company investments to meet imperative, justifiable demands is made equally clear in the now perceptible trend toward city loans again."

PRINCESS DIES BY OWN HAND

RESULT OF PLOTTER ROW

(BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS) Written Expressly for the Lima News.

WASHINGTON—One more amazing chapter must be added to the international intrigue to put the deposed Boy Emperor back on the throne of China.

Despite powerful efforts to keep the tragedy a secret, it is now known that Princess Chun, the lad's mother, did not die a natural death as stated, but committed suicide after a scene between herself and the empress dowager.

Thru a friend in Peking I have just come in possession of the strange details.

The story throws into vivid relief the morbid atmosphere out of which certain British, Japanese and Chinese plotters would lift their candidate to the dragon throne.

PLOTTING FOR YEAR—For more than a year these international schemers have been promoting a match between the boy emperor Hsuan Tung, now 17, and the young daughter of Hsuan Shih-chang, president of China.

They believe the marriage of the Manchu "emperor" and the Chinese girl would please the southern Chinese and thus remove the objections to a restoration.

The empress dowager, according to my informant, is an ardent supporter of this match. The boy emperor's mother, the Princess Chun, was just as ardently against it. She preferred her great niece—daughter of her nephew and the boy's first cousin—instead.

The boy emperor himself, it is said, does not want to marry either, his choice being his own mother's young sister; in short his aunt.

So with this new love triangle in full swing, the Arabian Nights atmosphere of the imperial court became surcharged with personal spites and jealousies.

THE LAD BACKS MOTHER—The "Lord of Ten Thousand Years," as the lad is called, sided with his mother and was willing to take his first cousin to wed instead of either his aunt or the daughter of President Hsu.

The empress dowager was furious, it is said, and called the boy's mother on the carpet. The young "emperor" objected and took his mother's part.

On Oct. 1 the Princess Chun took opium and died.

ANOTHER VERSION—Another version has it that the court physician one day failed to show the empress dowager the respect she felt was her due, whereupon she called the boy emperor down. Prince and Princess Chun took their son's part and the quarrel followed.

Whichever story is true, the Princess Chun today lies in a suicide's grave; the empress dowager is slowly recovering from illness; Prince Chun is broken over the loss of his wife and the boy emperor is in mourning for his mother.

Still the international plotting goes on.

Found in Colorado Snow After Third Man Perishes*

How Herbert G. Kutz, 28, former Toledo man, met a tragic death from freezing and exposure in the snow-covered mountains of Colorado; how his rigid body and his two companions, both near death from over-exertion and cold, were found by A. E. Harshe, Y. M. C. A. secretary in Denver, and who formerly resided at 626 N. Elizabeth-st., was flashed to this city Friday afternoon just after the arrival of Mrs. Harshe and children to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Richlen, 644 N. Elizabeth-st.

Kutz, employed by the Texas Oil company in Denver, met death when an automobile in which he and two friends had left Denver on a hunt ing expedition, became stalled in a snow drift in the mount ins, miles away from any community. The three labored in zero temperature thru one night in their efforts to get the machine back on the highway. Early in the morning Kutz fell over dead. His face, feet and hands were frozen.

Harshe, in company with Roy Wingate, son of Monty Wingate, formerly member of the Lima police force, found the dead man and his two companions, the latter near death from exposure, as they were passing the spot in an automobile. First aid was given the survivors and they were later taken to Denver with the body of their companion.

CLASH COMES IN FORECAST

WEATHER forecasts are tricky things. Perverse temperature likes to do the very thing the forecaster predicts it won't do. This is understood by most everyone — and nobody cares much about it, anyway.

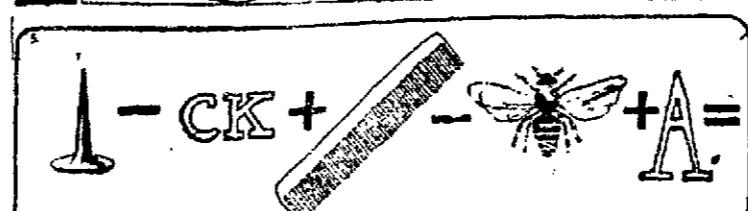

December continues in its determination to afford fall instead of winter conditions and according to the latest forecast release, 'twill be fair tonight and Saturday and warmer Saturday.

The prognosticator doesn't say so, but any number of goosebone prophets and those who hold that aching corners are infallible signs that rain is near at hand, will tell you their corners are bursting something fierce.

So look out for a downpour and don't be disappointed if the prospect fails of realization.

URGES ROCK PILE

Safety Director Would Make Prisoners Work

Director of Safety D. W. Dorris advocates the return to the old rock-pile system, by which prisoners who are incarcerated in the city jail can be made to work out their fines.

At present if a prisoner refuses to pay a fine for a misdemeanor, the court has but little choice but to free him.

The fund from which prisoners are fed is low, despite the fact that the allowance per meal is but 15 cents. Formerly it was 25. Dorris reduced the ration allowance shortly after taking office.

There is also considerable painting and repair work needed on the safety building and the safer believe the work could be done by prisoners.

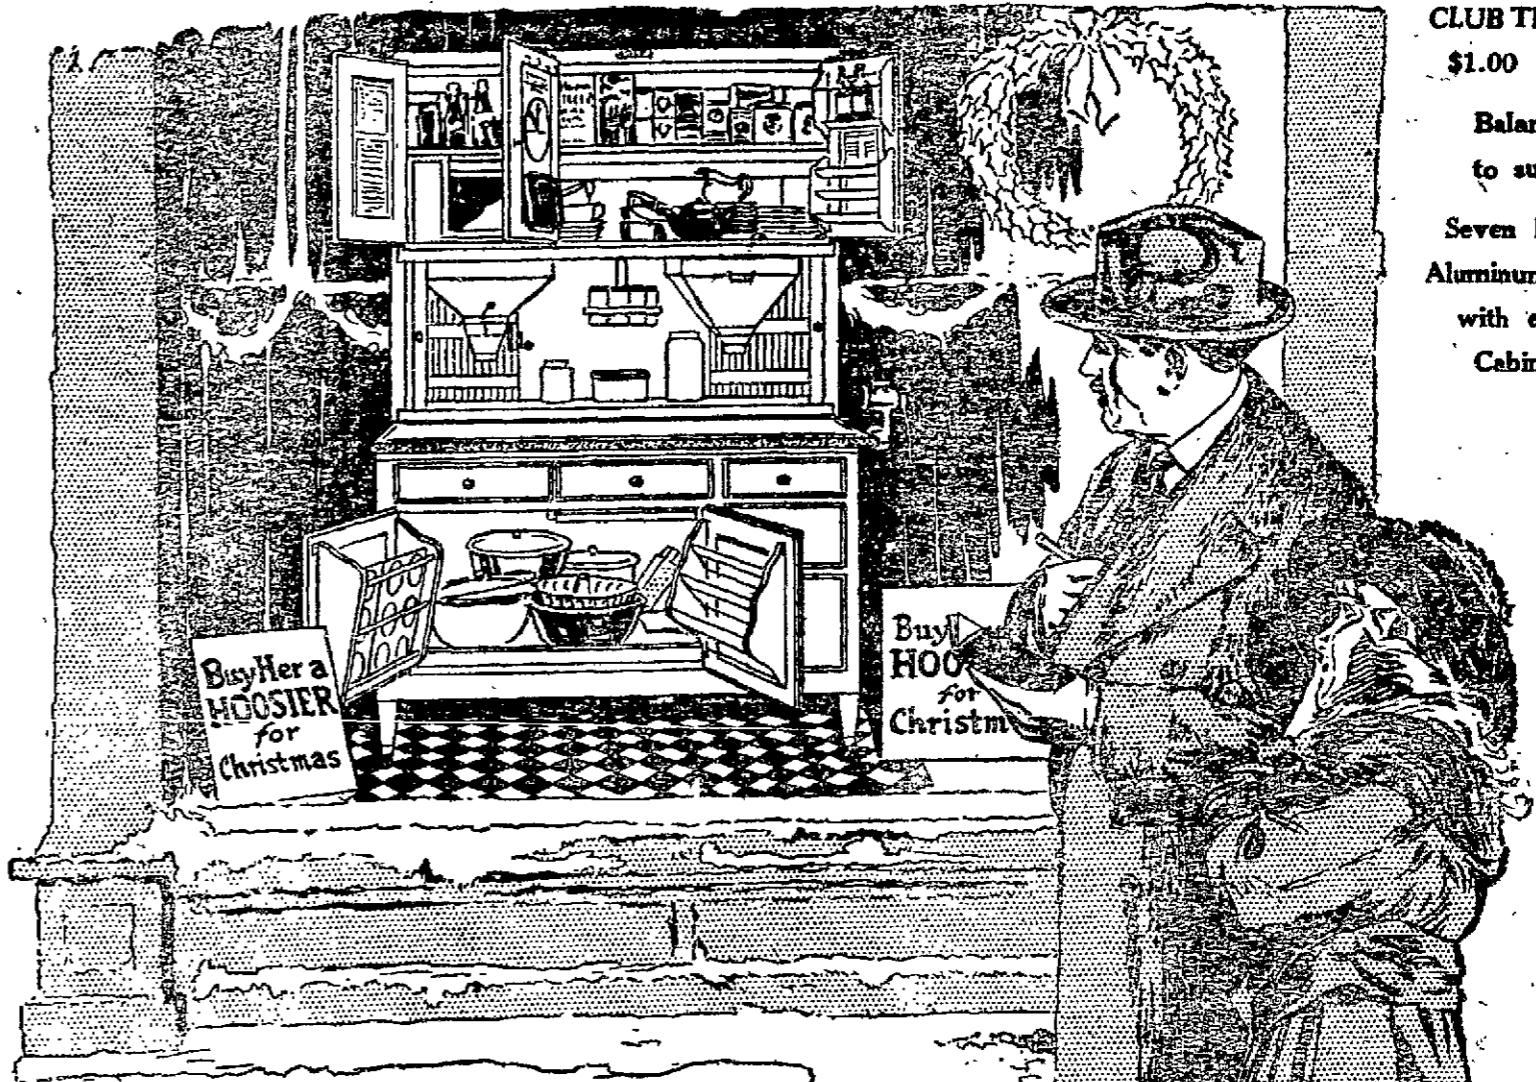

The only thing to prevent having work done in the way suggested is lack of money.

The city has no funds available for the purchase of paint, Dorris said.

HELD IN WALL-ST. BLAST PROBE

—Claims Alibi

OMAHA, Neb. — (By United Press) — The latest attempt to fix the blame for the Wall-st. bomb outrage of September 16, 1920, "threwed" today, when Mike Stine, a Bulgarian hotel clerk, arrested last night following receipt of a mysterious note, established a alibi.

At the time of the explosion, Stine was doing a "strong man act" with a carnival company appearing at the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities in Omaha, he declared. Police believe his story, but are still holding him pending further investigation.

No trace of the mysterious sender of the note which caused Stine's arrest, has been found.

When arrested Stine was working

as night clerk at the Grand Hotel, a cheap lodging house in the foreign quarter.

Eight hours of third degree questioning have failed to change Stine's story that he has not been in New York since 1920, police said.

The unsigned note, which led to Stine's arrest, read:

"Go south of Harvard-st. Find a dark-skinned man with long black hair, wearing a green sweater with red stripe and red collar. He runs a rooming house. Ask him if he was ever in San Francisco and ask him to come down to the one-horse wagon of dynamite in Wall-st."

DISEASE-PROOF POTATO

LONDON.—A new potato, called Di Vernon, exhibited here, is said to be immune from disease and to yield heavily. A single potato bought last year, its owner said produced 56 pounds of tubers last season.

OHIO ELECTRIC LOSES IN LIGHT RATE BATTLE

State public utilities commission has overruled the Ohio Electric company's appeal for a higher light rate scheduled in this city and ratified council's ordinance of August 2, 1920, which fixed the present rate to remain effective until August 2, 1922.

Under OH ruling all electric light, power and fuel tariffs will stand as at present. The light schedule as fixed by council calls for a charge of from 8 1/2 to three cents per kilowatt-hour for current used. A discount of five per cent is allowed on all bills paid at the time of payment.

A rate of four cents per kilowatt-hour, without discount being allowed, was fixed for the boulevard lighting system.

Report Compiled During "Better School Week"

GAIN 1,611 IN SIX YEARS

Comprehensive Statement of Educational Facts

Enrollment in the public schools of Lima during the past six years has far surpassed building facilities, according to a report issued Friday by Superintendent of Schools J. E. Collins.

The increase, which applies to all departments of the public schools is 1,611, or 27 per cent. This increase is equivalent to the necessary number of pupils to occupy space provided in three of the largest schools.

These facts were compiled by Collins after a visit had been made by the principals of all Lima schools to the elementary, social and crippled children's schools, as a feature of the Educational Week of "Better School Week" movement.

BUILDINGS CROWDED

According to Collins, the rapid increase in school enrollment is crowding building facilities. During the past six years the senior high school has grown 64 per cent.

With the schools of the city crowded beyond legal capacity in 1916, that year marked the beginning of a building program to relieve existing conditions and provide for the normal growth in school attendance. Since that date the increase has been 1,611, or from 5,964 to a total for the present year of 7,575. This increase alone is almost equal to the enrollment in any three of our largest elementary buildings, the report states.

At the time of completion of the new buildings three years ago, including South High School, the system was changed from the 8-4 to the 6-6 plan of six years in the grade buildings, and six in the high schools. This plan of reducing the years in the grades to six relieved the congestion in the grade schools for the time, while the completion of South High gave opportunity to bring the seventh and eighth grades into the two high schools. At that time Central and South were organized on the six-year plan to include the Junior and Senior high schools.

At the same time this has been a period of marked growth in the population of the city, Collins points out. In comparison the growth in school enrollment of 1,611 is even more marked with the result that the attendance is again up to the legal capacity of the building facilities.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

The first six grades, reflecting more largely the growth in population, show a gain of 778, or 18 per cent. The gain for the seventh and eighth grades now known as the Junior high school has been 295, or 31 per cent, while the Senior high school covering the last four years of the course has gained 543, or 64 per cent. It is evident that the popularity of the Junior high school, together with the proximity of South High to the students in that part of the city and the extension of the elective system to meet the needs of vocational and commercial students at both schools have increased the holding power through the high school years. As a result both high schools at the present time are housing pupils beyond their normal capacity. The total enrollment at Central is 1,507; at South High 1,027.

The report prepared by Collins further reads:

"During this same period the night school has been organized as a permanent part of the school system under state and federal aid, such funds for both the day and evening vocational classes bring annually approximately $10,000. At the present time the enrollment in the night schools at Central and South and in local industries is about 800. Classes are organized in vocational subjects and Americanization. There is no age limit except that the student must be over 16 and many have been enrolled over 60 years of age. At present 64 women are studying millinery, with three instructors in charge, while 94 are taking courses in dressmaking. Classes are organized in cooking as well as the various commercial subjects. Among the vocational classes for men the largest is automobile construction and repair with 68 under four instructors. The class in electricity is almost as large, while 68 under 18 years of age are taking the night courses in Junior high school subjects.

SPECIAL SCHOOLS
"Five years ago the first special school for overage or retarded pupils was organized. At the present time there are eight. Four of these are for the younger children found in the lower grades, and are located at the Garfield, Horace Mann, Whittier and Lincoln schools. Two for overage 5-6 grade girls, with emphasis on the home-making courses, are in the Garfield and Whittier buildings, while two schools for overage 5-6 grade boys in pre-vocational or manual courses are located in the Central and Whittier buildings.

"In addition to these eight special schools organized in the past five years, a special school for crippled children was organized last September. At present the Board of Education receives up to $300 per child for a total of $4,500 for the year from the state for transportation, instruction and midday luncheon of these 15 crippled children. Thus the work of the Lima Rotary Club many of these received surgical and other treatment with braces and crutches making them physically fit to attend school, with similar service to many other crippled children who have attended the regular grade schools.

"In addition the schools have had the cooperation of many social and child welfare associations and individuals in bettering the conditions of school children.

"The recent generous approval by the parents themselves on November 5th in voting three mills for a period of five years must be accounted as the one outstanding event of the year in

Thin Blood Saps Energy
Gude's Pepto-Mangan
Rebuilds the Blood

Wrestling with a weakened condition of the blood is a desperate struggle. Thin, watery blood deprives the body of energy and causes a play-out feeling not unlike utter exhaustion. A man with weak blood has not the full use of his powers. He lacks decision, and vacillates until he loses self-confidence.

Some men and women too, go faltering along for months scarcely realizing that they need Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the blood builder. But when they have taken it for a while, what a difference there is in the feelings! The old-time vigor and the red-blooded hue of good health return. The new rich blood gets to work, building, fortifying, lifting the spirit up to its normal standard.

Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for years as a blood-builder. Drugists sell it in liquid and tablet form. Look for the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.

WHEAT OUTLOOK IN U. S. FAVORABLE

Drought Prevails, However, in Lower Plains Region

NOT GOOD IN WEST EUROPE

Conditions in Argentina Continue to Improve

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The seeding of winter grains is now practically completed throughout the Northern Hemisphere, according to reports received by the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture.

"The seeding of all winter cereals has been hindered by drought throughout western and Great Britain, and irregular stands and growth reported," the Bureau states. "The moisture supply has been plentiful throughout central Europe, and the present outlook for all winter grains is good. The drought in North Africa still prevails, according to latest reports, and rain is greatly needed to facilitate seeding and germination. The seeding of winter wheat is progressing under favorable conditions in British India, and the crop is germinating well. A good acreage is expected."

CONDITION IN U. S.
"Weather and soil conditions have generally been favorable for the seeding and germination of wheat in Canada, and the crop should enter the winter in good condition. The condition of all wheat is favorable in the United States, except in the lower plains region, where the crop has been injured by drought and some late seedings have failed to germinate. Conditions in the far western states have been improved by recent rains."

The condition of wheat in Argentina continues to improve, due to the abundant rains since September 15, which have broken the long drought. As conditions were very unfavorable during the normal seeding period, much of the grain has been sown unusually late, and the prospects of grain sown as late as this are generally poor. If present favorable conditions continue, however, a normal crop or better may be expected. The acreage as given by the Argentine Government for the year 1921-22, is 13,327,000 acres, compared with 14,957,000 in 1920-21.

A preliminary estimate places the Australian wheat crop for 1921-22 at 145,605,000 bushels, compared with 145,223,000 bushels in 1920-21. Good rains have been reported in South Africa, especially from those sections of the Cape where the bulk of the wheat is grown.

WELTY IN FIGHT FOR CANALS

Former Congressman Attends Washington Hearing

Former Congressman C. F. Welty of this city attended a hearing this week conducted in Washington before the board of engineers for rivers and harbors of the War Department, on the proposed construction of a Lake Erie to Ohio river canal, connecting the Pittsburg and Youngs' town route.

While it has been announced that a strong case was made for the route under discussion, it is expected by Welty that superior advantages of the Miami and Erie route, which passes thru the western part of Allegan, will be shown in another meeting of the board to be held in Cincinnati, late in December, or in January, at which time the advocates of three western routes will be heard.

It was under a resolution presented by Welty while in Congress that the survey was made by the board of engineers, upon which the recent report of the board and the Washington hearings were based.

"I do not anticipate an immediate report from the board of engineers favoring an appropriation from Congress," Welty stated, following the hearing. "It appears more likely to me that the board will ask a further appropriation and more time in which to complete a more thorough survey which will embrace the eastern or Pittsburg-Astabula, and the Miami route. Ultimately, I expect to see both routes used for canal purposes."

LEAGUE MEETING TEST IN SAAR

Projects Mines Given to France For German Destruction

To workers in the mines and mills of Europe the League of Nations, international treaties, peace and war are realities—things that affect their daily work—not phases as they are to most of us. Whiting Williams is telling Lima News readers what he learned about the European workers' viewpoint in a "pick and shovel" investigation. This is Williams' eighth article.

BY WHITING WILLIAMS
AM A GOOD GERMAN. You understand. Still I must say that the French proprietors are paying us better and treating us better than the Prussian state officials."

These surprising words came from an employee of the French government now in control of the coal mines of the Saar district, located in the north central edge of Alsace-Lorraine.

These mines were given over to France as reparation for the destruction of coal pits of Lens. The district is under the control of a commission of five chosen to represent the League of Nations. Several hundred French soldiers are at the disposition of the commissioners. Altogether the Saar gives a mighty good demonstration of just about the most important thing I've run onto—the huge importance to us all of our daily jobs.

If the League of Nations' officials will keep that in mind and help the coal miners and steel workers of the Saar district to keep happily at work, it will mean a lot for the peace of the world.

There's nothing in the world today that interests the workers of Europe and of America, too—anything like so much as that.

BARON CASE WILL GO TO JURY LATE TODAY

CLEVELAND — The case of Mc H. Baron, wealthy Brooklyn cafe owner, and like Simon and Hymen Barnett of Pittsburgh, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the alleged illegal shipment of whisky from Pittsburgh to Youngstown, will go to the jury this afternoon. Taking of evidence was concluded yesterday.

When court opened, Assistant United States District Attorney Joseph C. Breitenstein was prepared to sum up the government's case. Breitenstein contends that Baron withdrew liquor from a Pittsburgh warehouse to be sold in Youngstown for beverage purposes. A shipment of 500 cases was seized by Youngstown police.

Baron's counsel deny the conspiracy charge. They claim Baron withdrew the whisky to be transported to Brooklyn for medicinal purposes.

WAPAKONETA — Lafe W. Kusner, postmaster of New Bremen, whose term is soon to expire and who intended taking the civil service test as a candidate for reappointment, has withdrawn from the race and will move to this city, to become secretary of the City Loan & Savings company.

By constantly making Gold Medal flour better the Washburn-Crosby Company has been able to build the largest and best equipped mills in the world.

Gold Medal quality made the biggest mills in the world

TO grow in fifty-six years less than a single lifetime—from a little flour mill out in the western wilderness to the world's largest milling organization, calls for something more than mere money and hard work. That something is public demand.

From the beginning, one dominating policy has governed the making of Gold Medal Flour. That policy is that each year's milling must be the best that year can produce.

Year by year more people recognized the quality of Gold Medal Flour and used it in ever increasing quantity. This demand has given the Washburn-Crosby Company the facilities that have made possible a quality of flour and a service to the public which

GREENSBURG MACHINIST DROPS, A THOUSAND DOLLARS EASY

Spent His Money Uselessly Trying Different Remedies to Rid Himself of Digestive Troubles, But Had No Success Until He tried Nerv-Worth, and This Soon Ended Indigestion.

"I have spent at least a thousand dollars in an endeavor to rid myself of indigestion and stomach trouble. I have had for years, but got no relief by tonics and digestion, together with extreme nervousness, caused me to lose much valuable time. For the last 18 years I have been a machinist in the Kelly-Jones Co. of Greensburg, and my time was worth money. I was compelled to lay off 10 weeks not long ago. Doctor said you could give me some temporary relief, so I went to the drug store and saw Nerv-Worth advertised, and determined to try it, and I am glad to say that now after using only part of a bottle, and not once troubled with indigestion or nervousness, I have gained in weight instead of losing weight as formerly. I can eat anything I want when I want it, and it thoroughly agrees with me. I most cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth to all, for it has done more than any other I have tried." Thus wrote D. F. Smith, who resides at 122 N. Maple Ave., Greensburg, Pa. You will find that if you suffer as Mr. Smith suffered, Nerv-Worth will quickly restore your health. It will aid and benefit your whole digestive system, relieve your nervous condition, and tone and invigorate you throughout. If it does not stop you after a few days, have it sent back, bottle your money will be refunded. Nerv-Worth is now $1.00 per bottle. Sold on a money-back guarantee.

DEATH ROW HIGH
MARK REACHED

New Record Set in Number of Ohio's Doomed Men

Seven to Pay Supreme Penalty
Within Three Months

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.) Population of the "death row" at the Ohio penitentiary has reached the record mark set recently—10. Seven men in the "annex" unless reprieves hinder, of the present population, will step thru the green door to oblivion; three have been granted indefinite reprieves, but they still occupy cells in the annex, and are counted on among its population.

Once before the number of men waiting to be electrocuted reached 10, and that was considered an unusually high mark.

Roy Chamblin of Portsmouth, who recently murdered John Newmark and Louise Doyle, and Samuel Purpura, youthful Cleveland payroll bandit, charged with being implicated in the Syl-Fanner payroll robbery, are perhaps the most notorious of the seven men awaiting death.

SMUGGLE ATTEMPTED.

Penitentiary officials just the other week frustrated an attempt on the part of Purpura's sister to smuggle a gun in to him.

"There probably would have been some widows around here, if we hadn't got the gun," said Frank Howell, secretary to Warden Thomas. "Purpura had nothing to lose and everything to gain."

Chamblin is slated to be electrocuted February 24. Purpura will go to his death February 10, unless courts or the governor intervene.

Harry Lee Bland, of Meigs co. is to die January 9; John McGuire of Lucasco, February 3; Walter Wallace Wright, Jefferson co., March 1, and Arthur Harding, Lucasco, February 21, making a double electrocution on that date. All seven of the executions come within the three months January, February and March.

Joe Mack, to have been electrocuted Oct. 3; Charles W. Harbig, Cuyahoga co., September 20, and Edward Moffett, Summit co., September 30, all have been granted indefinite stays of execution. Mack was sent up from Summit co.

TONSILS QUICKLY BURNED OUT

New York Specialist Does This Without Pain

Perfected Method After Nine
Years of Study

NEW YORK.—(Special)—"Yes,
madam?"

"Ah—tonsils, madam?"
"Yes—and won't you be seated?"

You sit down.

"Open your mouth—there now—
just 20 minutes, please!"

Holding a little instrument, not unlike a fountain pen, in your mouth, you sit for 20 minutes.

Then:

"There, that's all now!"

And out you go—maybe you haven't even taken your hat off—
minus your tonsils!

RADIUM DOES IT

Radium which you held in the instrument in your mouth melted the tonsils away. No blood, no knives, no pain, only 20 minutes of your time gone and you can continue your working and playing and eating as if you'd never had a tonsil!

Dr. A. Graham Biddle, New York specialist, is perfecting the radium treatment for tonsils. He has been working nine years to eliminate the danger, blood and pain of tonsil removal.

METHOD SIMPLE

"The method," says Dr. Biddle, "is exceedingly simple. The patient needs no previous treatment or preparation. The attending physician would assist perhaps in adjusting the radium pencil so that it would strike the tonsil—after that the patient holds it there until the fibre is melted away."

"The radium melts back to what is called the crypt—a little ridge about as thick as this." Biddle was holding up a piece of tissue paper

HERE'S TONSILS' GREATEST FOE

folded three times. "That little ridge is allowed to remain."

MAKES EXPERIMENTS

"Radium has interested me intensely. I watched its effect on cancers and it occurred to me that tonsils might be removed that way."

"So, experimenting with removed tonsils, I found that Gamma radium (there are three classes of radium, Alpha, Beta and Gamma, all of which have a different action) would dissolve the fibrous tissue of the tonsil."

The treatment, Biddle says, never requires more than 20 minutes.

"And that's all there is to it." Biddle, a rather genial, heavy-voiced man, snapped his thumb and third finger, "no blood and no tonsils lying around on the table!"

The Congregational church is one that lends itself well to a concert when decorated as it was Thursday afternoon was, indeed, beautiful. The decorations were of feathers, asparagus ferns, small Christmas trees and glorious Christmas stars in a wreath, all in keeping with the annual Christmas program of the Woman's Music club.

The program opened with the Women's chorus singing the following Christmas carols: "Fair the Herald Angels Sing," "The Little Lord Jesus" and "Hark, the Glad Tidings." Mrs. Reed Marshall accompanied at the organ. She is an organist of great ability.

The second number, "Joseph Tenter," Joseph Nine, a 14th century song was beautiful as sung by Mrs. Beatha Falk Callahan.

The fourth number was a cantata, "The Christ Child" by Paul Bla with readings from the Bible by M. K. Bannister, Mr. Fred Gooding, Mrs. R. O. Woods, Misses J. Allen Grubb and Fred Culbert took the solos and quartette work most effectively.

The closing numbers were organ selections "Kanonnetti" by Taharowsky and "Toccatina" by Dubois played by Miss Gertrude Blau.

While spending the summer at a mountain hotel I met a fascinating man in an artist. From the first he was devoted to me. When we met we agreed to correspond as plighted lovers.

How a love affair that passed as quickly as a summer shower can spoil life for an ambitious girl is told naively by the sufferer.

"While spending the summer at a mountain hotel I met a fascinating man in an artist. From the first he was devoted to me. When we met we agreed to correspond as plighted lovers.

"I notified him of my safe arrival home and added 'hat was in my heart to say I received no reply. A month later I wrote again. I never have heard from the man he had vowed a hundred times that he adored me.

"In the 'Letters to Lovers' I have read about 'sublimation' or how to change disappointed or hopeless love into work. Now I find that I cannot put my mind upon any subject other than the man I love and the hours we spent together.

"I am a highly trained singer but I am afraid my nervousness will ruin my voice. When I go upon the stage before an audience I look for the one man until the spotlight blinds me.

"I do not sleep. I do not enjoy the society of other men. My life is a wreck unless I can learn to 'sublimate' as you suggest."

Probably the young woman is not exaggerating an impending tragedy. Doubtless the emotion, which for the man was only pastime, is actually ruining her singing voice.

The physical reactions from emotional distresses are often terrible.

But isn't the wrecking of her career too big a price to pay for a summer affair with a man who means love—and runs away?

This girl's cure consists in a better understanding of her value, not in herself not to any man, but to devote it to the entertainment of audiences.

Her misery comes from turning her love-force inward. Her cure will be assured when she switches her thwarted emotions into an outlet.

It is provided many persons with pleasure, therefore she ought to save it from destruction. She ought to cherish it, and continue to devote it to the entertainment of audiences.

PATTERN FOR TODAY

A POPULAR APRON AND CAP SET

3805—So neat and trim and so easy to adjust—is this apron. To make the two pleasing models here shown will not take very long. Percale, drill, sateen, lawn, cambric, unbleached muslin, cretonne or chintz are good for this cap and apron. The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes. Small, 10c, Medium, Large and Extra Large. A Medium size requires 3-4 yards of 36 inch material for the Apron, and 3-4 yard of 30 inch or wider material for the Cap.

"No human soul writes to any other human soul when it's on a honeymoon, Dillys. Not on the honeymoon that's worth its name."

"I'm not listening to you. I'm upset. For now I can't write. I'll have to tell Jim—get back to him at once!"

"You'll finish your very excellent letter first, dearest. You see, we can't start tonight."

(Vermont, Inter.)

Ir, during those days of honeymoon, I forgot all thought of my duty to Jim, at least I made up for it by thinking of him, and of him alone, during the whole of the long journey back to the hills. In my mind I went over and over what I was going to say to my brother, and how I should best break it to him that I, who'd left the Camp as the peacock and sprightly Miss Agnes Vaughan, had returned to them as Mrs. Stephen Gabriel Morris, the bride of the composer of Sweet Stranger, and other about-to-be-popular songs.

I'd go into Jim's room alone. Of course, he was well on the way to recovery, but I expected that he would have been packed off to bed early. Well, I'd go in, and I'd blurt it out at once!

At last, the car rattled us up and down the roads to the Camp village. It looked deserted, the elm-bordered village street, from which all the

She's vanished, that admirable Miss Vaughan—that-was, who only existed for her duties and her twin brother; that little, dull, domesticated, shabby-blue-serge-clad British-spinstress type.

Behold in her place this incredibly pagan young Mrs. Morris—that-is! A blithe honey-lunatic, oblivious of everything save this seven-days' Elysium.

I have forgotten—can you believe it?—forgotten all about Jim! Never thought of him until this very evening, when my Slim Pilot and I were out at dinner together. My husband's face and voice became all concern. He'd seen the change in my own face. "Why, Dillys, what's up? What's the matter?"

"Jim!" I gasped.

Startled, my pilot glanced about the dining room.

"Jim?" he echoed. "Where?"

"Oh, not here, my dear. In Vermont! Doesn't know we're here! Oh, d'you realize that he doesn't know anything at all that's happened since that evening when I just blew into his room, snatched some money, and told him that I was off to stay in New York for three days with Miss Crane?"

"Good Lord, but didn't you—"

"No! No! I didn't write or wire or send a word! And I've never even thought of it!"

"Are you sure, now, that Miss Crane won't have written and told Jim all about you?"

"Not she. She had to tear off back to Chicago the minute she'd seen us married and off her hands! She's plenty of things to do besides writing to tell people's brothers that their sisters have gone and got married to stay colonials at second's notice! And, of course, she imagined I'd wired to the camp. Of course she thought I should be writing reams to Jim like I always do, every day when I am away from him—" and drawers. Nothing of Jim's. I fled toward the back regions, and here encountered our kindly landlady.

"Well, Miss Vaughan!" she exclaimed. "We didn't know when we were going to see you again. Your telegram to your brother came this morning—I sent it on to him."

"On? Isn't he here?"

"Why, no; he's been gone three days now."

"Where on earth's he gone now?"

"He left, in a mighty hurry, for Chicago."

I stood there gasping in the passage. "Chicago! What's he gone there for?"

"Heavens above," I said blankly. I'd just remembered—that, of course, she was a Chicago girl.

"And the message Captain Vaughan left for you, Miss Vaughan, was, would you please come along as soon as possible after him? To the Whitestone Hotel, Chicago."

At first the Slim Pilot began murmuring things about not seeing why we should have to streak off to Chicago when we had this fine chance of prolonging our honeymoon in the Big Outdoors. As for Jim, wouldn't a wire to Chicago fix it for the next few days? Or a long-distance call? No, a wire was best.

"Please put 'Arriving Chicago Saturday.' Sign 'Mouse.' Then we'll tell him ourselves. Yes, on Saturday. Darling Pilot-boy, we must poor, poor Jim! Think of him! When I'm so happy and all," I coaxed.

Late that evening, in the setting of that waning moon that had been mounting to the full on the night I had last walked in this place, I took him with me towards the lake down that bit of white road. There, at a gap in the hedge, I stopped.

"You walk on," said I, with a little push, "until I call you to stop."

Wondering a little, he did as I asked him. When he was nine paces away from me I called, "Now walk back to me here."

Bareheaded, the moon shining down on his slim gray figure, my Pilot swung along the road towards me, smiling as he came. No wraze, he came up to me now, and real, he took me in his arms.

"Tell me, when you were walking over there just now, did you—did you think you'd ever seen this place before?"

He told me with his little laugh: "I didn't see anything but you."

So when he asked me, "Why, Dillys, did you bring me out here?" I told him no more than "Because last time I was here, I happened to be thinking about you."

The day after, we set out for Chicago.

DORSEY'S

Outcome of Situation Now Impossible to Predict

DEVALERA'S BACKING STRONG

Treaty, However, Expected to Finally Win Out

LONDON — (By Associated Press) — The repudiation by Eamon De Valera of the agreement reached between the British and Irish plenipotentiaries for the establishment of the Irish free state and the resultant split in the Dail Eireann cabinet overshadowed all other developments in the Irish situation.

The receipt of this news immediately raised two questions, "what will be the outcome of the division among the Irish leaders as affecting the decision of the Dail Eireann upon the agreement?"

"What effect will the situation in south Ireland have upon the British government's attitude and the opening of the imperial parliament for consideration of the agreement?"

PARLIAMENT PLANS

The best opinion is that the split among the Dail leaders will not affect the plans for the opening of

The agreement was made between the British government and plenipotentiaries representing the Dail Eireann and it was placed before the house of commons and the house of lords in the king's speech.

Then after Prime Minister Lloyd George in the lower house and Lord

Birkenhead in the upper chamber have explained and supported the agreement, a brief adjournment will be taken to await the vote of the Dail Eireann which meets the same day — next Wednesday.

The sessions of the Dail are considered here as likely to be prolonged and lively for it is composed of young men with strong views which they are in the habit of expressing with force.

In his statement last night declaring himself against the terms, Eamon De Valera, republican leader, disclosed that his attitude was supported by two members of his cabinet, Austin Stack and Charles Burgess. The other cabinet members are said to have remained firm in favor of the treaty. This split, with the odds favoring ratification, is pointed to here as significant of the possible lineup in the Dail Eireann itself when the time for action arrives.

POSSIBLE OUTCOME

The outcome seems at this distance impossible to predict. Although there were reports before the signing of the truce last summer that differences of opinion existed between Mr. De Valera and some of his chief supporters, such as Arthur Griffith, no such differences if there were any, have ever been expressed in public and opinion on how the rank and file voted is, for the most part, now a guess work.

Mr. De Valera, however, will have strong supporters for the rejection of the agreement and for the demand for an Irish republic from Austin Stack, Charles Burgess, Desmond Fitzgerald, Liam Mellows, Countess Markievicz and all the out-and-out republicans, it is believed. Government circles in London, however, remain convinced that Griffith, Michael Collins and their supporters will win the day, as it is felt that the moderates will follow this group.

The split in the Dail cabinet will not interfere with the release of the prisoners in the Irish internment camps and other places of confinement to whom amnesty was extended by the king's proclamation, according to the Irish office. Those from the Ballykinler camp will be given their liberty today and others of the interned men will likewise be set free immediately. It is pointed out here that many of these men are classed as extremists, but the cordial reception which the first of those released gave to the agreement has caused hope in the official world that the released men for the most part will prove supporters of Collins and Griffith.

DUBLIN SURPRISED

DUBLIN — (By Associated Press) — The extent to which Dublin was surprised by Eamon De Valera's statement of last night in opposition to the terms of the Irish agreement can not easily be exaggerated. Altho his sentiments were generally known, it was not believed he would openly differ at the last moment with the decisions of the Sinn Fein's accredited plenipotentiaries.

In political quarters here the general feeling today seemed to be that the Dail Eireann at its meeting next Wednesday would support Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, who stood by their signatures of the agreement against all the arguments of the opposition, and it is stated that if plenipotentiaries were again needed in London the same men would go again.

New Canadian Premier is Cousin of MacKenzies

A sweeping victory by the Liberal Party in the Canadian elections which carries into office William Lyon Mackenzie King as Premier, has added interest in Lima, for the reason that the Premier-elect is a first cousin of W. L. MacKenzie, 227 S. Colletet and is well-known in Lima.

The above named are grandchildren of the Scots-Canadian Liberal leader, William Lyon MacKenzie, who headed the Canadian rebellion, an outstanding feature of the history of that country.

Electing King in the success of the Liberals and the defeat of the Meighen government which has been in control, is gratifying to the members of the MacKenzie family here. The name of MacKenzie has long been associated with the development of the British territory to the north of the United States.

Chicago, III.

"Only a medicine of truly wonderful merit could have done what Tanlac did for me and there is nothing half good enough for me to say about it," said Miss Frances Newman, 2639 Hirsch St., Chicago.

"I don't think anybody ever suffered any more from indigestion than I did and for over a year I was in wretched health. I had smothered in spells and my heart palpitated so violently I thought I had heart trouble, but I know it was all caused from my stomach.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel and look like a different person. I have a splendid appetite and my digestion is just perfect. I sleep eight or nine hours every night and get up in the morning feeling fresh and happy. My friends tell me I'm always smiling now and I certainly ought to be, for I'm enjoying life again."

"Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Store and by leading druggists everywhere. adv.

THEY NOW
ASK FOR THE Cleaner That Has the Lever

The Electric SWEeper-VAC

With Motor Driven Brush

The New and the Scientific Way of Cleaning Rugs is by the

ELECTRIC SWEeper-VAC

with Motor Driven Brush

LET US SEE WHY

Good rugs are backed with glue-sizing to keep them from wrinkling or buckling on the floor and to fasten the nap. Scientific cleaning avoids cracking off this glue-sizing through picking up the rug or beating it over a clothes line.

differs from all other vacuum cleaners.

The brush takes the ends of the nap, combs out all the lint, unmats the nap at its ends and beats it to dislodge any dirt that is caked on to it. The suction then goes way down into the nap and pulls all the sand and grit from the bottom of the rug, along with the lint, threads and hairs, up into the dust bag of the cleaner. This scientific method of cleaning by the Electric Sweeper-VAC in a short time should save more than the price of the machine.

There are a score of other reasons, such as Motor Driven Brush, light weight, easy operation, Brush Switch, worm drive, dust-and-pin-proof belt, which make the Electric Sweeper-VAC with Motor Driven Brush fit for the best homes in the land.

Manufactured by the oldest concern of continuous standing in the Vacuum Cleaner market.

Just Turn the Lever
OFF _____ ON

With ONE TURN of this lever you have either a vacuum cleaner with Plain Suction or one with Motor Driven Brush and suction combined.

Instantaneously controlled by this lever is a unique mechanism by which the famous worm drive principle plays a leading role, giving a silent, sure drive for the correctly speeded brush, while at the same time it allows the High Speed Motor to run for a most powerful suction.

It also gives light weight, ease of operation, dust-and-pin-proof belt, freedom from adjustment and many other useful features.

NEAR FIST FIGHT IN HANGING PROBE

Watso Threatens to Slap Army Officer's Face

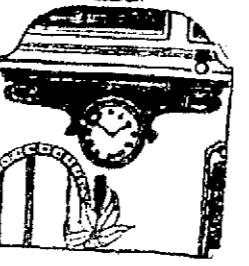

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The meeting of the Senate committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that soldiers had been illegally hanged in France, almost broke up in a row today after Senator Watson had threatened to slap the face of an army officer sitting in the audience.

Chairman Brandegee of the committee, taking hold of an awkward situation, declared that no person in the room should be insulted. This statement was made after Senator Watson walked up close to Major George D. Coe and, shaking his finger in his face, exclaimed, "For two pennies I would slap your face."

"If he looks at me again that way I will slap his jaws," the Georgia senator declared, adding that he would not remain with the committee to be "bulldozed" by this "bull-faced brute."

"Take your seat, Senator Watson," proper."

Secrecy Now Enshrouds Arms
Parley at Washington

Question Causing Outsiders Considerable Speculation Now

(By FRANK H. SIMONDS)
WASHINGTON — (Special) —

When is an alliance not an alliance?

When is it Quadruple Entente?

If you will ask this question slowly and answer it rapidly you will approximately arrive at the situation as Washington is saying it to be. But saying, to be sure, is not believing. What is most disturbing about the present situation is not that there is any general belief that Mr. Hughes, with Mr. Hardings consent, has committed the United States to some new form of an old evil, but that for the first time the opportunity for others to speak for America has arrived and been seized upon.

Sometime last week some kind of tentative bargain or agreement or proposal was passed upon in some fashion by those whom we, following the not wholly unhappy precedent of Paris call the "Big Three."

As to the existence of this statement there is general agreement.

Now, since that time this experiment, this trial balloon, this scrap of paper, the term does not signify,

has taken on very definite and tangible shape in the general discussion, outside of the conference.

AGREEMENT IS SECRET

One may say, with a degree of authority which, as the current phrase has it, "one is not permitted to disclose," that this agreement is now what London and Tokio affirm, not what natives of London and Tokio, sojourning in Washington declare, that it is not an alliance, not a commitment, above all that it is not "an entangling alliance." What it is not possible to say now on any

American authority is, exactly or approximately what the thing is.

In other words, and it seems to me the fact is all important, American diplomacy, which before the conference, while conceding that it could not properly undertake to disclose the positions of foreign governments in the session, asserted that it could and would keep the American people in touch with the American policy and purpose, has temporarily renounced this course

and Mr. Hughes has adopted in Washington the course which Mr.

Wilson followed with such fatality in Paris.

The result has been simple. We have had American policy interpreted in precisely the terms which would best satisfy certain European nations and would be most calculated to arouse American protest and above all to awaken protest on Capitol Hill. No thoughtful person believes that there has been undertaken any new treaty of alliance,

yet everyone has now to confront definite and specific statements that the United States, in return for

certain specific advantages, such as the acceptance of the naval ratio, will join with Japan, Britain and perhaps France, in guaranteeing cer-certain things, such as the integrity of China, liberally interpreted, to be sure.

Now, accepting the fact that

there has been an agreement of sorts, it is still totally outside the known purposes of the President and the Secretary of State that any

agreement should commit the

United States to anything beyond

the recognition of the rights of others and the promise to respect

these rights plus the pledge to play fairly in the matter of naval restriction and, in the matter of Pacific Island fortifications to observe

a holiday without end.

Four powers, the United States,

Great Britain, Japan and France

could each affirm such a purpose,

the Congress of the United States might be expected to assent to such a proclamation of policy, but the

something quite different from a promise to join in a Quadruple Entente, which might replace the existing Anglo-Japanese Alliance and undertake the regulation of the Pacific or the defense of China.

It is possible for the United States to sign the pledge, but it is both impossible and unlikely that the United States should undertake to

enforce prohibition, political not

spirituous, it is understood, beyond

its own territory.

It is conceivable, as is strenuously insisted upon, that one detail in

the agreement, Article III, some asset with amazing explicitness, notes that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, no longer having a reason for existence on view or the new arangement, automatically and by common consent disappears. Every-

one knows that the Washington

Conference will be regarded in this country as having fallen short of

complete success if the Alliance

does not disappear, but what is disquieting is the suggestion that this disappearance is paid for in Articles I and II.

SECRET IS DEPLORED

Beyond all else, what seems to me

the really disturbing fact in the existing situation is that the Conference has relapsed into such a profound secrecy and has hidden itself

in such impenetrable mystery that there is at least an excuse for the publication of rumors and reports

which tend very gravely to discredit

the whole affair by rousing prejudice and exciting popular distrust.

Tonight, for the first time since the Conference opened there is a very widespread feeling in American

quarters that what happened in Paris is occurring again in Washington, that the only available explanation of American policy which at all satisfy even the surface necessities must be sought and can be found only outside of American quarters.

And this is precisely the thing which, before the Conference met, was promised should not happen. We all know within fairly accurate limits what was and is British policy. Japan conceals her hand, but she does not actually hide her objectives. France has not concealed purpose, and Italy would explain to anyone what was in her mind, if everyone was not so busy. But the silence which enveloped American policy at Paris has settled over American policy in Washington and for better or for worse, there is no Colonel House to volunteer explanations which, if they did not explain in Paris, at least oblige.

Michigan Has Poor Outlook For Basketball

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Prospects for a championship basketball team at the University of Michigan are the brightest this year, due to the fact that at least two of the best players from last year's squad, according to E. J. Mather, coach of the team, have signed.

TWO STARS GONE

Captain Joe Karpus, forward, and Jack Williams, a guard, two of the stars of last year's five, graduated last spring. "Duke" Dunn, captain of the football team and center of the basketball aggregation for the last two years, does not intend to be a candidate again this year because of the pressure of his university work.

Practically practice is under way and 15 men already have responded. From the squad Mather hopes to round out a team that will make a creditable showing in "Big Ten" circles.

LOOK UPON REA

Leading the field of candidates this year are Captain Bud Ross running guard of last year's combination, whose long shots from the center of the floor upset several conference teams; Miller, one of the best forwards of the Big Ten; Whitham, substitute forward last year; LeGallie, guard, and Reason, center.

From the freshman squad come a number of good men. It is probable that Ely, former star of the Hillsdale, Mich., College five, and MacWood, will be strong rivals for Dunn's place.

Pro' Grid Games Seem To Be On Verge Of Death

The popularity of professional football seems to be on the wane.

A year or two ago it looked as if the professional game was sure to go big. A reaction, however, has set in, which makes it seem that the public has soured on the professional grid game.

INTEREST DIES OUT

In Cleveland, where the game went big for a time, interest seems to have died out to a great extent. In fact, the crowds dropped off so suddenly that the Cleveland manager found it far more profitable to book games away from home than to straight guarantee, than to gamble with the weather and the enthusiasm of the fans.

It is beginning to look as if football was truly the school and college game. Spirit is what makes the game so attractive from the college standpoint. That spirit is entirely lacking in the professional games. This despite the fact that practically all the leading pro teams are composed almost entirely of former college stars, many of them All-American selections.

FORGET SPIRIT

A number of the former stars who have turned "pro" seem to have forgotten all about the old college spirit. Instead of playing to the limit of their endurance, they save themselves at every opportunity, and take few if any chances. It is only natural that any sport in which there is a decided lack of effort and interest by those taking part should sooner or later suffer as a result. That tells the story of professional football.

WANT TO BE A BOXING CHAMPION? HERE'S RECIPE OF DUNN

BY JIMMY DUNN

Famous Manager of Noted Boxers
(In an Interview with Billy Evans)

HEALTH, courage, brains and good habits are the four essentials in developing a champion boxer. The greatest of the four is good habits.

In developing a boxer, I much prefer the boy who has never received any previous instruction.

I like them in the rough. It enables me to form a much quicker and better opinion of their chance to make good.

good left hand. A good left hand with which to jab an opponent, is the one best bet. Unless a boxer has a good left hand, he never has a chance to get anywhere.

The left hand to a boxer, is like the rudder to a ship, it guides the way.

After a period of instruction in learning to develop a straight left jab, I take up the matter of balance.

In the boxing game, balance means that the boxer is never out of position, always ready to take advantage of the slightest slip on the part of his opponent.

Often a fighter develops a good left and right hand, but lacks the brains to make the greatest use of his power. There is where the fellow with brains has the advantage. A manager can instruct his boxers in the art, but he cannot think for them in the ring.

FOUR LIMA TEAMS PLAY TONIGHT

Four Lima basketball teams are scheduled for games tonight. South Hi will play St. Marys III in Lima, St. Rose Hi's quintet will journey to New Bremen and the Lima Mikados go to St. Marys to play the Independents there.

The St. Marys game at South Hi will be the only game in Lima tonight.

Coch Young has been drafting his squad hard all week in preparation for the St. Marys' game which will be the second on south's schedule last Friday night, then overwhelmed Wauseon by a large score.

St. John's Hi opens its season at home tonight with the St. Joseph's Hi of Defiance as their opponents.

The game will be played in the St. John gymnasium.

BYKFR IS COMING

Bob Lake, the former star of the Lima White Star and now athletic mentor at St. Rose, expects to take New Bremen into camp tonight without any difficulty, providing his team keeps up with the pace set in their three games already played.

The Mikados are in reality the Lima Locomotive team of the Y. M. C. A. Industrial league and the team is managed by Frank McClain. They have not been defeated this season and included in the line-up are such professionals as Baker the Star center and Thomas his running mate.

St. Rose Hi will play their hardest game of the season a week from tonight at Ft. Wayne when they stack up against Cathedral Hi.

Centre Pleased To Play Rockne Squad Dec. 26th

DANVILLE, Ky. — Announcement that Centre College Colonels will meet the Notre Dame eleven at San Diego, Calif., December 26, was enthusiastically received here today by members of the team and students.

The 22 letter men, Coaches Moran, Myers and Thorndill and representatives of the faculty will leave December 6 for the far west. They are scheduled to arrive in San Diego at 6 a. m., December 23 and will remain there one week.

The first team is scheduled to play the second in a benefit game here today.

College Teams Handicapped By Poor Schedules

Just so long as college football schedules are arranged in a haphazard fashion, the annual fall tandem as to who is really the champion will continue.

Only the defeat of Ohio State by Illinois cleared up the situation in the Western Conference. A victory for State would have given that team grounds for claiming the title. On the other hand, Iowa had plenty of evidence to offer in behalf of its claim. Chicago incidentally further strengthened the situation by defeating Wisconsin.

ON THE WAY
The location of Iowa doesn't make it a very desirable attraction to Ohio State. Lynn St. John, director of athletics when asked to explain the situation, offered the following argument:

The location of Iowa is Michigan, Chicago and Illinois. While we still have another year to go with our two-year contract with Minnesota, the great distance between the two universities makes the scheduling of games a great task for both elevens. The biggest objection on the part of both the Ohio and Minnesota faculty is that college work is seriously impaired because of the time required for the trips. It is the same with us. A mere matter of distance has kept Iowa off our schedule.

MUTTER OF DISTANCE

"That alone kept us from talking business with Iowa for this year. The location of Ohio State at one extreme of the Conference team makes it a tough job to arrange games with teams at the other extreme, and satisfy all conditions. As much as coaches and directors manage schedules to best suit their own conditions, tangles will always arise, when two or more teams in the Conference have clean records."

PRAISES NEW RECRUIT

Harry Davis, the veteran first baseman of the day when the Athletics were winning world championships, says Hauser, who will play first for Connie Mack next year, is a great ball player. Mack was forced to give Pitcher Keefe, First Baseman Griffith and Catcher Myatt to Milwaukee to put over the deal.

It is beginning to look as if football was

Situation on Wall-st Summarized By Forbes

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK.—(Special)—At times one has to have faith in order to cling to optimism. In the early part of this year few could see anything but clouds and storms ahead. Today optimism is gaining.

The events of this week alone have greatly increased confidence among the nation's business and financial leaders.

The settlement of the centuries-old British-Irish feud rolls away one of the very dark clouds which have been overhanging the world, fostering acute uneasiness in high places, for many, many months.

The relief is certainly responsible quarters here is felt less than the relief which must be felt throughout Britain and the British Empire. The terms excite little or no astonishment, as it has become evident for some time the British government would concede anything and everything so long as Ireland agreed to remain within the fold of the British empire.

The substantial advance in Sterling Exchange and in German marks is interpreted as foreshadowing important developments regarding the modification of the indemnity payments. The view almost universally held in financial circles here has been that Germany could not possibly maintain the stipulated payments and that insistence upon them would drive her into inevitable disaster—financially, industrially, socially and, probably, politically. Such a prospect was viewed with grave alarm in thinking circles. All talk of "stabilizing German exchange," was ridiculed so long as Germany continued to turn out paper marks at the rate of billions weekly, last week's statement revealed an expansion of no less than four and one-half billions of marks. Hopes are now entertained that some agreement will be reached which will enable Germany to shut off this deluge of paper money, reform and greatly increase her levies, import raw materials and otherwise set her house in order.

Any developments calculated to strengthen or confirm such hopes could have a most important influence here and throughout the whole financial world.

Large employers hail with deep satisfaction Chief Justice Taft's decision that only mild, unobtrusiveicketing may be indulged in by law. Most capitalists feel that this attitude towards interference with workers willing and anxious to work will evoke the approval and support of the public and also of the great many workers who of late have not been altogether satisfied with leadership which led them into losing battles.

At no time has faith in the outcome of the Washington conference been greater than it is today, notwithstanding delays, intimations of friction, the gloomy forebodings of certain correspondents, etc. It is not believed that Japan will dare to nullify the Hughes plan for limiting naval armaments. Moreover, there is strong hope in influential circles that a comprehensive international pact will be drawn up covering Pacific and Far Eastern questions.

Then, of course, there has been President Harding's message to Congress. Taken as a whole, it is regarded as sensible and helpful. Such matters as his tariff suggestions and the abolition of non-taxable bonds are called forth varying degrees of commendation and criticisms. But the dominating feeling is that President Harding is making up to the requirements of his office better than many had expected, and that he has on such widespread public support that he should be able to infuse added energy in congress.

The make-up of the budget is accepted as a very distinct improvement as marking the dawn of saner handling of the nation's finances.

While happily, there have been no wild outbursts on the Stock Exchange the undertone throughout both the Stock and Bond markets has been unmistakably cheerful. The remarkable rise in Liberty issues has excised nation-wide influence, and there is every justification for exuding trustworthy securities to do well in the coming year.

LUMBER MARKET
In its weekly review of the lumber market, Lumber will say tomorrow: "Steady demand has characterized the market, and virtually all lumber during the past week has shown developments, with the early part of the holidays, inventories and slow movement of lumber out of the market, principal account for this decline." The market in pine and Douglas fir situation, however, have not fallen heavily, the some sentiment continues in items advanced, reflecting the recent sharp demand. The demand has not set in hardwoods as a week ago, and the pressure to sell and prices are holding firm, with some inclination to further advance in southern gum, which is difficult to get in quantity. Low grades of the northern and eastern hardwoods continue to move in fair quantities and recent price gains common stocks have been retained."

NEW YORK.—With few exceptions the usual leaders were ignored in the early trading on the stock exchange today. Mexican Petroleum opened unchanged but soon rose one point. Corn Products, Pittsburgh Coal and Northern Pacific also were firm to strong. California Packing was the only issue to show acute weakness, declining 1 1/2 points. The retail price of butter dropped another two cents on the pound Friday and both the creamery and country brands can now be bought for 50 cents a pound.

Thursday the wholesale price decreased one cent and the Friday drop in the retail markets was anticipated.

No other changes were announced by dealers. The drop in the price of butter comes as a little surprise and no contributing factor can be ascertained.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

Roy Bowersock, the "Old Cap Collier" of Allen-oo protective forces, was left at home to wash dishes while his wife went to the movies. "I didn't have much luck," he reports. "I think it was because I put buckwheat flour in the water by mistake for washing powder."

Bob Mitchell, fairest student at Central HI, awoke in the middle of the night recently, thinking he heard phonograph music. "It wasn't that," he says, "My cot bed turned over with me and pitched me out on my nose."

Al Stolzenbach of insurance fame bought a brand new derby a few days ago. That night he sported the new sky-piece to church. On the way home he stopped at the Williams & Davis mortuary. There friends began to "pan" the new lid. Next day he exchanged it for a different shape. Hatterdasher who sold the hat has refused further exchanges and sent a note of warning to all critics.
